GERMANY'S FLEET SURRENDERED TO ALLIES

AMERICANS OCCUPY GRAND DUCHY OF LUXEMBURG

MYSTERY IN WINE CASK MURDER IS UNSOLVED

Police Bend Effort to Learn Identity of Man Murdered in Bay Cities and His Body Shipped to East in Liquor

PHOTOGRAPHS COME OF SLAIN ITALIAN

Investigation Leads to Questioning of Suspected Mafia Members As Well As Many Others Who Knew Victim

Murderers of an Italian in Oakland, San Francisco, or some other of the bay cities, placed his body in a fifty-gallon wine cask, filled the cask with wine and shipped it to New York.

The crime was discovered when the cask was tested in New York and today police detectives are searching through internal revenue records and through records relating to mafia and blackhand quarrels in the bay region, in hope of establishing the identity of the man.

Information received from New York says that the body is that of a man between 30 and 35 years, and that identification will be easy, as the body is well-preserved.

So far the only clew that the police have to work on is the fact that records of the internal revenue department show that on a date that would tally with the time necessary to transport wine from here to New York there was shipped by a wine company in San Francisco two barrels of wine, either one of which is said to have corresponded in description to the one in which the body was found.

San Francisco police were notified by a letter received from Captain Carey of the New York force. The letter was accompanied by a picture of the murdered man. So far none of the Italians prominent in the inner affairs of the Italian colony has acknowledged that he ever saw the original.

Names of Italians reported missing in the period during which the wine was shipped, February 10, 1917, are being listed, and friends of these men will be shown the picture in hopes that they may identify the murdered man.

It is believed that there have been a number of Italians vanish by reason of secret society vendettas in the bay cities. The police hope relatives of these men will come forward and aid in clearing up one of the most grewsome murder mysteries that they have had to do with for some years.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Captain Arthur Carey, head of the homicide bureau of the New York police department, today denied the report from San Francisco that the body of an Italian had been found in a cask of wine shipped here from the coast.

He said inquiries had recently been made in San Francisco in regard to a barrel murder here and this probably accounted for the confusion in regard to the facts in the case.

The body of the victim, an Italian, who was seen in New York the day before he was killed, was found in an empty wine cask in Brooklyn.

Here's Why Kaiser Lost War

U.S. Army Machine Amazing

New Nation Built in France

WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE, Nov. 21 (by the Associated Press).—The extent of America's military effort in France at the time the armistice was declared is shown by statistics which the Associated Press is now permitted to make public. While the stupendous figures are amazing, it should be remembered that they show only a part of the great effort made in war preparations.

On the morning of November 11 the United States had in France 78,391 officers and 1,881,376 men, a total of almost 2,000,000. As has already been announced, there were 750,000 combat troops in the Argonne action.

Behind this man-power lay vast machinery which was required in operations. Railway and motor roads were constructed and across the sea were brought locomotives, cars, rails and motor transport of every kind.

TREMENDOUS MACHINERY OF WAR ASSEMBLED

Behind this again was the requisite food, clothing and general supplies for the men, as well as dockage and warehouse construction.

The American army has brought over to France and has in operation 967 standard gauge locomotives and 13,174 standard gauge freight cars of American manufacture, in addition to 350 locomotives and 973 cars of foreign origin. Eight hundred and forty-three miles of standard gauge railway were constructed. On top of this, the department of light railways reports the construction of 115 miles of railroad and fourteen miles of German light railways were repaired and put in operation. Two hundred and twenty-five miles of French railway were operated by the Americans.

ENGINEERS WORK DAY AND NIGHT ON ROADS

These figures represent a fairly good-sized American railway company; but railways represent only a fraction of the transport effort. Modern warfare is motor warfare, and it is virtually impossible to present in figures this phase of the work. In building new roads as the exigencies of battle operations required, in keeping French roads repaired under the ceaseless tide of war transport, and in constructing bridges in devastated battle regions, American engineers worked day and night.

The whole region behind the American lines is full of typical American road machinery of a character never seen in Europe. To do this work the American expeditionary forces had in operation November 11 more than 53,000 motor vehicles of all description.

Even at the present stage of the armistice it is not permissible, to hint at the vast stores of munitions and armament held in readiness. The Associated Press, however, is allowed to give approximate figures showing what has been accomplished in the accumulation of food supplies.

FOOD FOR GIGANTIC ARMY HELD ON HAND

In army terms one ration represents the quantity of each article to which each man is entitled daily. It is interesting to note the supply of some of the principal ration components on hand today. For instance; the Americans have 390,000,000 rations of beans alone; 183,000,000 rations of flour and flour substitutes; 267,000,000 rations of milk; 161,000,000 rations of butter or substitutes; 143,000,000 rations of sugar; 89,000,000 rations of meat; 57,000,000 rations of coffee, and 113,000,000 rations of rice, hominy and other foods. There are requisites such as flavorings, fruits, candy and potatoes in proportions, while for smokers there are 761,000,000 rations of cigarettes and tobacco in other forms.

The Associated Press is informed that the American army had engaged to give the French 2,000,000 pounds of meat, 5,500,000 pounds of beans and rice flour and milk in proportion. To the British 8,000,000 pounds of meat were promised, while the Belgians were assured that they would receive 4,500,000 pounds of rations of all kinds.

CHANNEL PORTS ARE MADE UNIMPORTANT

It is difficult to describe in exact figures what the American expeditionary forces have done in the construction and improvement of dockage and warehouses. This work has been proportionate to the whole effort in other directions. Ten steamer berths have been built at Bordeaux, having a total length of 4100 feet. At Montoir, near St. Nazaire, eight berths are under construction, with a total length of over 3200 feet. Warehouses having an aggregate floor area of almost 23,000,000 square feet have been constructed.

This development of French ports increased facilities to such an extent that even if the Germans had captured Calais and other channel ports, as they had planned, the allies' loss would have been strategically unimportant.

These figures serve in a measure to show the magnitude of American accomplishments, and the great machine is in operation today as the American Third army moves forward into German territory.

Judge Griffin Asks Pardon For Mooney

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 21.—Governor Stephens today received from Franklin A. Griffin, trial Judge in the Thomas J. Mooney case, a long letter appealing to the chief executive to grant a conditional pardon to Mooney. Such action by the governor would be tantamount to ordering a new trial.

In his letter Judge Griffin reviewed the entire case at length, outlining the testimony of the prosecution's chief witnesses.

The testimony of Frank C. Oxman, the prosecution's star witness, was characterized by the Judge as "the turning point in the Mooney case."

Disclosure of an attempt by Oxman to secure false testimony through letters written to Edward Rigall and his mother at Grayville, Ills., led Judge Griffin to believe that Mooney should have a new trial.

"The situation of Mooney," said Griffin's letter, "is that he stands condemned to death upon evidence concerning the truth of which, to say the least, there has arisen a very grave doubt. Since his trial facts and circumstances have come to light which seriously reflect upon the credibility of three of the four witnesses who link him with the crime of preparedness day and which shake the very foundation of the case upon which the people rely for his conviction.

"The highest courts in the state and nation have declared themselves to be without power to relieve him. Upon the shoulders of the chief executive, therefore, rests this great responsibility."

Judge Griffin concluded his letter with a plea "that right and justice demand a new trial for Thomas J. Mooney, in order that these facts, so material and of such importance to the issue of his guilt or innocence, and unavailable to him at the time of his trial, may be presented to a jury for consideration and determination."

NO SECRECY IS POLICY ASKED AT VERSAILLES

Open Diplomacy, in Accordance With Wilson's View, Urged at Conference Which Will Decide Peace Terms

CREEL TO FACILITATE FULL FLOW OF NEWS

Major-General Crozier of the Department of Northeast Is to Go to France As One of Army Delegates, Is Report

PARIS, Nov. 21.—While Versailles is making ready for the peace congress, the problem of secrecy or no secrecy, censorship or no censorship, is taking on great importance.

Senator Borah's statement that everything must be under the eyes of the public is receiving much comment, especially as it is understood that President Wilson has the same sentiments.

It is pointed out that the American censorship has been abolished and the British newspapers are permitted to publish what is not allowed in France. It is now urged that there be an interallied agreement concerning what shall be published about the peace negotiations.

Opinion here generally inclines toward secrecy on the ground that the Germans will exploit to the fullest extent the slightest lack of harmony. However, many declare the Wilsonian policy of open diplomacy ought to begin at Versailles.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—"The freest and fullest flow of news" as to the peace conference will be facilitated by George Creel, chairman, and other members of the committee on public information going abroad.

Creel gave this assurance today in reply to congressional intimations that the cables were taken over to give the government a censorship control of peace conference news.

ASK HOLLAND TO PROTECT ITS NEUTRALITY

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS, LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

PARIS, Nov. 21.—The allied governments have decided to send an official protest to the Dutch government against the violation of Holland's neutrality as a result of her permitting German troops to cross the province of Limburg in their retreat from Belgium, according to the Echo de Paris.

Limburg is a long, irregular province of Holland, nearly 105 miles in length. For twenty-eight miles from its lower extremity it lies between the province of Limburg, Belgium and Rhine Province, Germany. At the widest point in this region it is nineteen miles between Belgian and German soil. Just north of Sittard, Limburg province narrows down to less than five miles.

It was reported from Paris on November 19 that German troops returning to Germany from Belgium had to cross the Dutch province of Limburg, and the charge was made that the passage was made with the sanction of the Dutch authorities.

The senators who fought adjournment were led by Senator Borah of Idaho. When the resolution came from the House he demanded that it be referred to the appropriations committee. An unanimous report from the committee was secured shortly thereafter and upon the question of passing the resolution Borah demanded the ayes and noes.

Senators who voted against adjournment were: Brandegee, Borah, Calder, Cummins, France, Hale, Harding, Johnson (California), Knox, Kellogg, Kenyon, Moses, McKellar, Reed, Spencer, Trammel, Watson and Weeks.

BOLSHEVIKI IN DVINA REGION BADLY BEATEN

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Heavy fighting in the Dvina river region between Bolsheviki and allied forces Monday and Tuesday is reported by the war office. The Bolsheviki attacked the allies on the front and flank Monday penetrating several villages and forcing their way to the Canadian battery positions, where they were held. American and British infantry then counter-attacked, throwing the enemy back with heavy losses.

The fighting was resumed Tuesday, the Bolsheviki being beaten with great casualties.

U.S. TROOPS WELCOMED BY MAYOR AT CAPITAL

All of Luxemburg Swarms With American Soldiers; General Pershing to Call Upon the Grand Duchess

OCCUPATION ARMY IS GIVEN BIG RECEPTION

Villages Decorated With Stars and Stripes and the People Give Ovation to Doughboys —Advance in Ally Lines

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—French troops occupying Budapest, the Hungarian capital, included a division of 3000 men, while two other divisions are to hold important rail heads, according to official diplomatic despatches from Berne.

By BERT FORD,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Nov. 21.—All of Luxemburg, the small grand duchy lying between Germany and France, swarms with American soldiers today. The doughboys have entered the capital and General Pershing announced that he would make a formal call upon Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide, the ruler, at noon.

The mayor of the capital paid a visit to General Dickman, commander of the American army of occupation. Everywhere one looks there are long columns of marching troops.

True to their happy traditions the negroes sing lustily as they work. The main railway line, supplying the American army of occupation on the Rhine, is almost completed. It will be done in a few days. The soldier workmen have been laying more trackage in a single day than an ordinary gang of section hands could put down in a month.

By WEBB MILLER,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE AMERICANS ADVANCING TOWARD THE RHINE, Nov. 21.—The American army of occupation is now standing on the soil of four countries—France, Belgium, Luxemburg and German-Lorraine.

Today's advance resulted in the occupation of a score of villages and towns. We reached Fontoy and Vitry, in Lorraine, the latter town being only ten miles north of Metz. Further to the left Americans entered the neutral Duchy of Luxemburg, passing through Esch. The City of Luxemburg, the capital, is gaily decorated with flags in honor of the Americans.

The mayor of Luxemburg crossed the lines in an automobile and paid his respects to General Pershing at Longuyon, which is now his headquarters.

TROOPS ARE ACCORDED OVATION ON MARCH.

Michigan and Wisconsin troops, which led the way into Luxemburg, received an ovation along every foot of their march. They entered fifteen villages. Every one decorated with home-made American flags. In German-Lorraine the Americans were welcomed by the inhabitants of French extraction. Those of German descent looked on sullenly. The important town of Arlon, in Belgium, remembering America's food and relief work throughout the war, gave our troops an extraordinarily warm greeting. The townspeople stood beside the roads all day, cheering themselves hoarse. It was not uncommon to see doughboys carrying one or two children with chattering French or German girls and boys walking alongside.

The Germans sent some staff officers to army headquarters to arrange for handing over the material in Longuyon. They consisted of thirty-five locomotives, 300 guns and thousands of rifles. The roads near the Luxemburg frontier are lined with surrendered cannon.

BELGIANS ADVANCE OVER FIFTY MILES.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The Belgians, rapidly carrying out the reoccupation of their country, have advanced more than fifty miles from the lines held by them when the armistice was signed.

They have entered Turnhout, 24 miles northeast and Herenthals, 18 miles east of Antwerp.

Both the Americans and the British have advanced about 30 miles, while the French have penetrated for 50 miles into German territory, occupying Saarbrucken.

The general line of the allied advance apparently is as follows:

Turnhout, Herenthals, Antwerp, Brussels, Jemeppe, Givet, Wancennes, Longlier, L'Eglise, Habay-La-Vielle, Arlon, Asch, Vitry, St. Alvord, Kochern, Forbach, Saarbrucken, Zabern Obernay, Neu Breisach and the line of the Rhine to the Swiss border.

FRENCH TROOPS OCCUPY CAPITAL OF HUNGARY.

The French occupied Budapest, capital of Hungary, on Sunday, it was announced here today.

PARIS, Nov. 21.—King Albert and Queen Elizabeth will make their formal entry into Brussels tomorrow, a Bruges despatch to L'Information stated today.

The Belgian government was transferred from Bruges to Brussels today.

FIRST INSTALLMENT OF WAR VESSELS IS OFF FIRTH OF FORTH

Mighty Armada of Allies Sails to Meet Humbled Foe and Convoys Captive Warships to Scotch Coast

SIXTEEN MORE U-BOATS GIVEN UP

BULLETIN

LONDON, Nov. 21—(By the Associated Press).—One German light cruiser while on its way across the North Sea with the other ships of the German high seas fleet to surrender to the allies struck a mine. The warship was badly damaged and sank.

LONDON, Nov. 21, 3:35 p. m.—The captive German battle fleet anchored this afternoon off the Firth of Forth (Scottish coast). Tomorrow it will proceed to Scapaflow for internment.

The German fleet followed the prescribed plan in surrendering, with the exception of one ship, which is now enroute. The admiralty made the following announcement:

"The commander-in-chief of the grand fleet reported at 9:30 this morning that he had met the first and main installment of the German high seas fleet, which is surrendering for internment."

It is understood that the German warships surrendered to Admiral Beatty today were eight battleships, six battle cruisers and eight cruisers.

There remain to be surrendered two battleships which are under repair and fifteen modern torpedo boat destroyers.

Four hundred allied vessels—the biggest fleet ever assembled—are reported to have met the Germans. The fleet included five American dreadnaughts.

The surrender took place at a point about thirty-five miles east of May Isle, just off the entrance to the Firth of Forth, on the Scottish coast.

Sixteen more German submarines surrendered to the British navy today, bringing the total up to forty-three U-boats that have been turned over by the Germans in two days.

The surrender today took place off Harwich at the same time that the German battle fleet was giving itself up.

One of the German submarines was disabled on its way to the rendezvous in the North sea.

A British fleet put out from Harwich this morning to accept the surrender of the second batch of submarines.

The equipment in the German ships explains the mutiny of the German sailors and their refusal to meet the British.

The allied men-of-war were formed in two long, imposing lines, stretching for many miles with a lane down between them for the Germans to pass through.

According to the plans, the British met up with the Germans first near May Island. Rear-Admiral Sinclair of the royal navy met the Germans upon the Cardiff and led them between the lines of the allied fleet.

The Grand Fleet then convoyed the German ships to the harbor. It looked like armed guards marching convicts to their cells.

The mighty British dreadnaught Queen Elizabeth, Admiral Sir David Beatty's flagship, was conspicuous during the ceremonies.

There were no submarines nor mine sweepers present.

Some of the ships carried two airplanes with them and others but one. The weather was favorable. The German vessels carried full crews, it was said.

AMERICAN WARSHIPS IN RECEIVING LINE

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—An American battle squadron, probably including five dreadnaughts, commanded by Rear-Admiral Hugh Rodman and operating as a unit of the British grand fleet, participated today in the passing of German sea power.

The Americans shared in the formal acceptance by Admiral Beatty, first British sea lord, of the surrender of the main forces of the German high seas fleet, as designated in the terms of armistice.

The identity of American naval craft in European waters never has been disclosed. The dreadnaughts originally sent over were selected because they burned coal, as the British government had difficulty in maintaining a supply of fuel oil. The first group may have been relieved and more modern ships sent in their place. With the American squadron went all auxiliary craft necessary to maintain them in active service without drain upon British resources. They have been on duty with the grand fleet for fifteen months.

The first ships sent over by the navy were destroyers and the original force commanded by Admiral Sims has been augmented very largely. American destroyers presumably still are kept on patrol and convoy duty until all German submarines are accounted for. American submarine-chasers, of which large numbers were sent to European waters, possibly played a part with other vessels in today's events.

United Press Staff Correspondent.

ABOARD THE BRITISH CRUISER DANALE, IN THE NORTH SEA, Nov. 21.—One of the greatest chapters in the world's history was enacted yesterday when a score of German submarines surrendered without a fight.

The four British cruisers and accompanying destroyers, which constituted the reception committee, had cleared their decks for action in case the Germans attempted any treachery. The gunners were at their stations, ready to fire at a second's notice, when the U-boats began to appear singly through the fog.

Harry Foster, a signal man, beside whom I was standing on the lower bridge of the Danale, sighted the leading submarine through his glasses, shouting, "There they are!"

According to schedule, the rendezvous was to have occured at 7:30 a. m., but the British reached the designated place ahead of time, and passed beyond. After they had progressed about five miles—36 miles from Harwich—they encountered the U-boats. They did not hesitate, proceeding according to instructions through a lane of British destroyers, toward the harbor. The only exchange of communications was when the cruiser Dragon signalled the submarines to carry out the formal surrender.

AMERICAN SEAPLANES MEMBERS OF ESCORT

Two American seaplanes were included in the aerial escort. Small boats with movie photographers aboard drew alongside the submarines. The Germans laughed and waived their hats at the photographers, smiling sheepishly.

When the U-boats came to anchor, the British transferred the German crews, together with their bread and potato rations aboard a merchantman on which they proceeded back to Kiel, the Dragon escorting them.

The Dragon was to accompany the merchantman as far as this morning's rendezvous.

The surrender caused no excitement, the only thing in the way of a celebration being the blowing of a siren in Harwich. The officers and men on the British ships were quiet.

It was fitting that the surrender should be received by the man who was probably the U-boats' worst enemy, Rear-Admiral Reginald Tyrwhitt, commander of the British destroyer force.

Mackay, president of the company, issued a statement today threatening court action. He declared the compensation award insufficient.

Saner Councils Rule Germany

Moderate Socialists Are Trusted

BERLIN, Saturday, Nov. 16 (By the Associated Press).—Berlin has now had a week of revolution, yet the streets have the same appearance they presented on any Saturday during the war, with the exception of the absence of newspaper reference to events along the front. A casual visitor would not be aware that this has been the storm center of a gigantic political upheaval. The mass of the public appears anything but excited over the future progress of events.

It is no reflection on German sense of patriotic duty to say that news of American relief temporarily eclipses the political drama. After four years of war the listless attitude of the middle class elements in the early stages of the revolution is typical of the apathy that prevails.

While parliamentary leaders of the middle parties beat a headlong retreat when the abdication of Emperor William was announced and left the Social Democratic party undisputed masters of the tangled situation, the majority of the middle class appeared oblivious or perplexed in the face of grave events. It was only after the Socialists had worked feverishly for eight days to anchor the revolution in the hearts and minds of the workingmen that the middle classes decided to issue their first call to arms.

MODERATES IN CONTROL.

The Ebert-Haase cabinet apparently is in undisputed control. It has taken over such elements of the bureaucratic regime that were indispensable and placed its party men in strategic positions. The hastily created subordinate bodies and committees are gradually becoming organized.

The executive committee of the soldiers' and workmen's organization is supposed to be the highest authority, but it is subordinate to the final authority of the council formed by the six people's commissioners. Until the national assembly has decreed the structure of the new republic the present apparatus must be accepted as a makeshift. At present the Ebert cabinet is concerning itself with the urgent problems of food and demobilization. The gravity of both is such that the radicals are wisely refraining from indulging in any Utopian experiments.

Ebert and Scheidemann are not feared. Lansberg is a professional lawyer, credited with poise and moderation. He asserted today that the present time above all is not suited to tampering with capital and industry. Haase, Dittmann and Barth have been less satisfactory. Haase is credited with being an extremely astute politician. He inherited party leadership from Ferdinand August Bebel, former Socialist chief of the Reichstag, but lost command when his party split four years ago.

No serious friction in the cabinet's deliberations has been reported, although the left wing has not declared for an early convening of the national assembly. Ebert and Scheidemann, on the other hand, are contented to rest their cause in the elections.

CALL FOR NEW PARTY.

The coming week will bring the middle class parties into action. Leading men and women all over the country issued a stirring call for the founding of a new democratic party today.

The appointment of Karl Kutzky and Edward Bornstein as under secretaries of foreign affairs and finance brings two of the best known theorists into the soldiers' and workmen's government. Both are convinced, however, that Germany is not in fit spiritual or physical condition to warrant experiments.

Responsibility for the disorders in the first days of the revolution rests on the Spartacus group, in which Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemberg carry little of the influence they held at first. Soldiers and sailors are ready to suppress any plot against the government and are insistent in their demand for non-partisan politics and for convening the national assembly, at which the greater German republic will receive its baptism.

EXPECT BOPP TO BE BANISHED

Any possibility that Franz Bopp, former German consul; Lieutenant Wilhelm von Brincken and others now serving sentences for violation of the neutrality laws of this country, may escape deportation at the expiration of their sentences, is believed to have been dispelled by receipt of information from Washington. Operatives of the Department of Justice have been instructed to keep close watch on all onemy aliens at liberty and arrest them ammediately they give cause.

After Bopp and his fellow defendants had been sentenced it was announced that deportation probably would ensue after their sentences had expired and peace had been declared. Information coming from Washington is to the effect that legislation is contemplated that will result in the deportation of all those who have been convicted of crimes against the war policies of the United States, and of those who have been interned as dangerous to the peace of this country's government.

GERMAN REPUBLIC ASKS FUEL, FOOD

VIENNA, Tuesday, Nov. 19 (By the Associated Press).—Dr. Karl, one of the three presidents of the national council of the German-Austrian republic, said today that the most urgent need was for fuel and foodstuffs.

"What we must have in the next two weeks is coal and food," he declared, "otherwise the cold weather will increase the misery and possibly plunge our poor people into Bolshevism.

"Our sole desire is to live in peace and amity with all persons according to the rules laid down by President Wilson and we also have appealed to President Wilson for food."

Dr. Karl added that former Emperor Charles, who is living at the castle of Eckartsau, is being treated as a private citizen, and is free to go where he likes. He is not guarded by forces of the new government, but by his own private guards.

IN THE DOWNSTAIRS DEPARTMENT

Ask the Soldiers and Sailors Who Makes the Best Fruit Puddings

One of the Naval Bands as well as a large number of navy boys and soldiers attended the Washington State Fair which recently was held in Yakima. Mrs. Porter had a booth in the main building, at which she demonstrated her fruit, fig and plum puddings. This was the most popular booth at the fair, due in no small degree to the fact that a large part of the demonstrating was done for those boys of ours who are in the army and navy.

One of the boys said:

"Mrs. Porter, this is my sixth begging trip, that I have counted, and I don't know how many trips I have made to this booth that I haven't counted, but honestly, those puddings of yours are so irresistibly good that I just can't stay away."

Mrs. Porter told him she would forget that he had been there before, and to come back again. It was a real treat to serve these boys pudding.

Many of the boys visited the booth so often that they felt ashamed and would hold their hands over their faces and peek through their fingers and ask; "Any more pudding?" And they got more—with a smile.

For Mrs. Porter has a boy of her own, and she knows, from experience, that he would walk a mile any day to get some of her pudding.

From this you should take a cue, and whenever you entertain any of the boys in khaki or blue, be sure to serve them Mrs. Porter's Fruit Pudding. They get practically everything else in camp, but puddings are scarce.

If you get acquainted with these puddings by providing them for some of the boys, it is almost a certainty that you will have them for yourselves; often, too. If you don't anticipate entertaining some of the boys soon, get acquainted with these very unusual puddings anyway, as they are an every-day dessert.

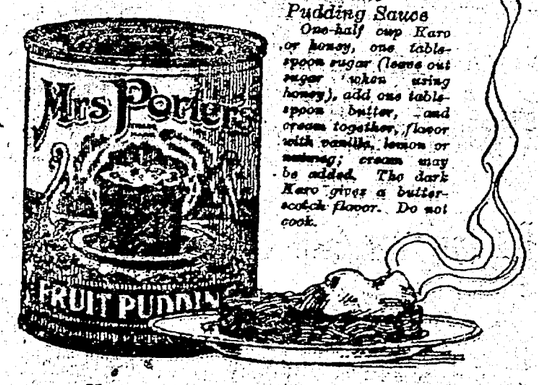

There is not one home-made pudding in a thousand that can compare with them—and at that the majority of home-made puddings are mighty good. So, you can imagine how good Mrs. Porter's fruit puddings and her fig and plum puddings must be. The ingredients are the finest possible—the very kind you yourself would select; and Mrs. Porter personally supervises the making of the puddings. They are superior through and through; and when the time, trouble, care and expense of home-made puddings are added all together, Mrs. Porter's are much the more economical, and as reasonable as most any other dessert you can serve.

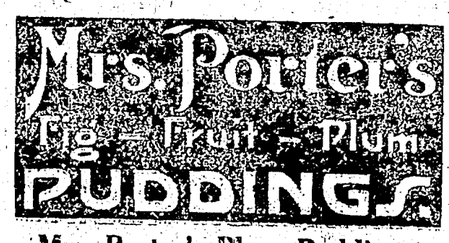

Only a limited quantity of them can be produced each season—there never yet has been enough for all who demanded them, so if you would know them, you had better make their acquaintance at once.

Then, after you have satisfied yourself that they have no equal, order a half dozen cans, or, perhaps, a case; otherwise you may not be able to get them. The fruit and fig puddings come in 25 and 35-cent sizes. All the best grocers carry them.

War-Time Pudding Sauce

One-half cup Karo or honey, one tablespoon sugar (leave out sugar when using honey), add one tablespoon butter, and cream together, flavor with vanilla, lemon or nutmeg; cream may be added. The dark Karo gives a butterscotch flavor. Do not cook.

Mrs. Porter's Plum Pudding is now generally recognized through the Mountain and Pacific Coast States as the up-to-date and correct pudding for Thanksgiving. The trying task of making puddings for Thanksgiving is fast passing—it's not modern practice.

SHIPWORKERS ACT ON MOONEY CASE

At the weekly meeting last night of the local Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders Union the members voted to hold a special meeting next Sunday afternoon for the purpose of acting on the Mooney resolutions adopted by the Central Labor Council.

A committee was appointed by the union to wait upon the managements of the four shipyards and notify them that the boilermakers will not work in excess of a 44-hour week, unless double time is allowed for the extra four hours, and that if the men are locked out next Saturday morning they will not work on Monday. This is the reply of the union to the statement alleged to have been made by Eastbay shipyard managements that unless the boilermakers were willing to work next Saturday afternoon the shipbuilding plants would close Friday evening until Monday morning.

The committee will also present to the managements a demand from the union for payment of wages before noon each Saturday, on company time. This, the union states, is in accord with the terms of the new Macy award.

ULTIMATUM GIVEN.

This morning the committee waited on the managements of the several plants and served the ultimatum of the union.

J. R. Christie, manager of the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, stated that the Eastbay shipbuilding plants, which are building ships for the United States government, have no choice in the matter of the recognition or non-recognition of the demand.

"We are bound by the terms of our contracts with the Emergency Fleet Corporation," said he, "and those contracts call for a 48-hour week after August 1 last. The demand of the boilermakers for a 44-hour week, or in lieu thereof double time for the four-hour shift on Saturdays, is a matter for the government to adjudicate. We shall endeavor to serve the government in the future as in the past, capably and fully, by delivering ships according to contract. The work is here for the men, if they want it. We cannot and will not recognize the 44-hour week unless instructed to do so by the federal authorities."

UP FOR CONSIDERATION.

Co-operation with the Central Labor Council of Alameda County in its plans for the release or retrial of Tom Mooney, under sentence of death for the Preparedness Day bomb outrage, semi-annual nomination of officers, and consideration of recommendations made by the Pacific Coast District Metal Trades Council at its recent meeting in Seattle, will come up for consideration at the regular meeting of the local Shipyard Laborers' Union Friday night. The meeting will be held in Gompers Hall in the Labor Temple. The election of officers will be held on the evening of Friday, December 13, a date which has, apparently, no terrors for the ship laborers.

Tonight the Cotton Mill Employees' Union will meet in the Labor Temple with the object of drawing up a brief of grievances to be presented to Swing and Kelly, the representatives of the Department of Labor who are investigating wage and working conditions at the California Cotton Mills.

A special meeting of the San Francisco Bay Iron Trades Council, with which most of the metal crafts in the Eastbay district are affiliated, was held last night for the purpose of acting upon a communication presented by the California Metal Trades and the Foundrymen's Associations.

CARRIES REFUSAL.

This communication offers to put into effect at once in all shops of the bay district the ten per cent increase in wages scheduled in the new Macy award, but carries a refusal to make the increase retroactive to August 1, as provided for by the award.

The Iron Trades Council voted last night to refer the matter without recommendation to its affiliated unions for a referendum vote. Each union will within a few days take a secret ballot on the matter. The first of the affiliated organizations to act is Machinists Union, No. 68, which last night met in the Civic Auditorium in San Francisco and voted to call a special meeting to ballot on the question next Sunday afternoon.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. — One thousand machinists, boilermakers and helpers walked out at the four plants of the Main Iron Works today on the refusal of the company to pay the ten per cent increase which was granted under the Macy agreement, or to pay this increase pending the appeal from the recent award by the Pacific Coast Metal Trades Association. A special meeting of the boilermakers was called by the officials for 2 o'clock this afternoon to hear the grievances of the strikers.

One hundred heater boys at the Shaw-Batcher, and 200 at the Union and Risdon plants of the Bethlehem company, who went on strike Tuesday and Wednesday, despite the orders of Business Agent M. J. Maguire, refused to return to work. Orders were then issued by the officials of the Boilermakers' and Iron Shipbuilders' locals for members of their organizations to work with non-union men if necessary to keep these plants operating at their fullest capacity.

The Main Iron Works is employed exclusively on contracts for the Emergency Ship Corporation and U. S. Shipping Board.

Red Cross Notes

Final plans for making the Red Cross Christmas roll call the most successful undertaking of its kind are rapidly taking shape all over the United States. With the cessation of hostilities and the assurance of permanent world peace it must be realized that the work of the Red Cross is, in a measure only begun. This statement comes from National headquarters, which is in close touch with every condition in Europe and America.

Governors of three states are included in the personnel of the committee which will have charge of the roll call for the Pacific division. R. B. Hale, who accepted the chairmanship for the Pacific division has named the following distinguished citizens to conduct the campaign: Governor William D. Stephens, California; Governor Emmett D. Boyle, Nevada; Governor George H. Hunt, Arizona; Judge W. W. Morrow, John A. Britton, William H. Crocker, E. L. Doheny, Edward D. Lyman, C. C. Moore and Edward H. Brown, who will act as executive secretary.

At the urgent request of Oakland Chapter, Frank A. Leach, who conducted the Christmas membership drive last year, has accepted the chairmanship of the Christmas roll call for Oakland Red Cross; a committee of representative citizens will assist the chairman in securing the names and the dollar of every person in Oakland willing to back the Red Cross in its task of restoration.

MEN ARE WANTED FOR PEACE SHIPS

"Wanted: Men for Uncle Sam's Merchant Marine."

This is the call from the United States Shipping Board, through Chairman Edward N. Hurley. The Shipping Board recruiting service will be carried on more actively than ever before, according to local officials, planning to train thousands of men to man the peace ships that are to carry food and supplies to reconstruct Europe.

Spinal Meningitis Takes U. C. Student

BERKELEY, Nov. 21.—William A. Sullivan, registered in the Student Army Training Camp at the University of California, died this morning of spinal meningitis in the university infirmary. According to the officials, this is an isolated case of meningitis, and in as much as more than a week has passed since Sullivan was stricken and there has been no outbreak, all fears of an epidemic in the barracks are quieted.

The body of the soldier student will be shipped to Watsonville for burial. He was the son of Mrs. M. Sullivan of Watsonville and was registered as a freshman in the college of commerce.

ALAMEDA SKIPPER TO BE LIBERATED

TRIBUNE BUREAU
1434 PARK ST.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 21. — Mrs. William Trudgett, wife of the American skipper of the destroyed San Francisco Winslow, has received a message from her husband, still a German prisoner of war. Captain Trudgett is now in Baden, about 50 miles from Berne, Switzerland, and is being fed by the American Red Cross. He writes that he is under the government of the Prince of Baden, and that prisoners in Baden are treated more humanely than in central and eastern Germany.

Mrs. Trudgett is daily looking for further word regarding the liberation of her husband. She believes that he will not simply be turned loose and permitted to make his way into Switzerland, but will first be taken to Kiel. He was formerly in military prisons at Karlsruhe and at Kiel.

Captain Trudgett was captured in mid-Pacific by a German raider while en route home to San Francisco from Australia in command of the Winslow. The Winslow was burned by her captors, and Captain Trudgett and others taken prisoners. They were carried for months and over several oceans by the raider before finally landed in Germany as prisoners of war. It was not till one of the raider's prizes, a Spanish ship, went ashore off the Dutch coast with her prize crew and prisoners, that news of Captain Trudgett was received by his wife, who had been without word from him for over a year, when she received news that he was a prisoner of war and held in Germany.

FIVE MONKEYS ATE THEIR 'FLU' MASKS AND DIED

Because Bert L. York, manager of a local amusement park, thought that monkeys, being the ancestors, according to Darwin, of humanity, might be subject to the "flu," and consequently put masks on a bevy of simian beauties in his monkey-house, he is out $200 worth of monks, and he has had to invest in a new carload from the East.

The flu did not kill them—but the flu masks did. For the monkeys, after struggling with the refractory bits of gauze for several days, got them off—and then promptly ate them.

Monkeys are like humans in one way—each one has an appendix—and in each appendix a flu mask lodged. Veterinarians, never having heard of monkeys having appendicitis, treated them for colic instead. Anyhow, five of the monkeys ate the flu masks and died.

Glue Stolen; Police Sticking to Search

Glue which refused to stick furnished the police today with several hours' hard labor. J. W. Bolt, of Kellogg's express, reported that a crate containing five packages of glue had been stolen. The police are sticking to their search.

SAY BANDIT LED GIRL WIFE ASTRAY

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21.—That Jewel Colano fell under the influence of Dale Jones, youthful bandit, married him and dared not cross his will, although her native emotions favored a quiet home life and were not criminal, was the belief of her mother, Mrs. John Celano, and her two sisters, Mary and Elizabeth, expressed here today. She married Jones in May, and Tuesday night both were killed in a fight with deputy sheriffs, which ended a spectacular career of banditry.

"She was a home girl," her sister Elizabeth said. "We all grew up here together in Los Angeles and we never noticed any criminal tendencies in her."

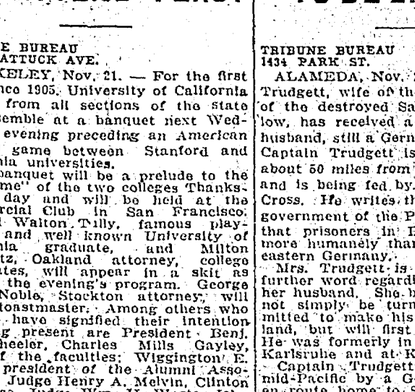

The sheriff's office today was busy hunting for a cache believed to be located somewhere near Los Angeles and which they think contains $100,000—the loot of numerous bank robberies. Search of the house at Sierra Madre occupied by Jones and his wife revealed a bank cashier's bag used for carrying money, with marks indicating it had been stolen from a Chicago bank. It also revealed that Jones and his wife gave a picnic party Sunday and officers are trying to find who were the guests.

TRIBUNE FILM SHOWN TODAY IN BERKELEY

Beginning today, Berkeleyans will be able to see themselves on the movies; for today the great TRIBUNE "Smiles" picture, taken at Lakeside Park to send to the boys in the war zone, is to open a three-days' engagement at the Berkeley T. and D. theater.

This picture, taken to show the men "over there" their loved ones at home, proved one of the most remarkable feats ever accomplished by a newspaper. Crowds from Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda assembled to parade before The TRIBUNE camera while George Middleton, noted director, handled a battery of camera men, and Harry G. Williams marshaled the paraders.

The persons in it have a novel experience, in seeing themselves just as others see them. A copy of the film is now on its way to the front as The TRIBUNE'S Christmas gift to the soldiers, and the film will also be shown in army cantonments in America where there are East-bay soldiers.

The film will be shown in Berkeley today, tomorrow and Saturday.

Prayed Wife Get Flu, Charge; Loses Spouse

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—While Samuel Rosenberg, a grain buyer, was alleged to have prayed for a fatal visitation of the influenza upon his wife, or that at least she be allowed to fall down stairs and break her neck, the wife, Mrs. Jennie Rosenberg, 1214 Potrero avenue, went to Judge Graham's court today and secured a divorce. The prayers were alleged in her testimony and the judge decided that to pray thus is to be cruel.

CLUB MEETS.

RICHMOND, Nov. 21. — There was a good attendance yesterday at the meeting of the South Richmond Improvement club in the home of Mrs. C. R. Blake. Plans for holiday activities were made.

ZEALOUS SWAIN ACCUSES HIS RIVAL OF THEFT

Emalliano Villa Nueva and Hovit Noniza love the same lassie. Her name is Luciano Greggo of Hayward. The girl was uncertain as to which she favored most. Hovlet was determined that she should be convinced of his worthiness and of his rival's unworthiness.

The two men were friends. Hovlet invited his rival out for a night. He provided good entertainment. Late they went to Hovlet's room. The next morning, according to Attorney J. Leonard Rose, Hovlet preferred charges against Emalliano, accusing him of theft. Emalliano was thrown into jail.

Then Hovlet went to the girl and told her of Emalliano's unworthiness. Until the discredited one proves that he is not dishonest, Hovlet reigns alone in her affections.

But the girl will be in court when the trial is held, and Emalliano says he does not care what happens to him so long as he proves himself blameless and spotless in her sight.

Billion in War Dept. Contracts Canceled

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Cancellation of war contracts involving the sum of $1,336,000,000 since the signing of the armistice was announced in a letter from Secretary Baker, read to the Senate today by Senator Martin of Virginia, chairman of the appropriations committee.

Surprised by statements of shipping board officials that they have employment for 200,000 additional men, the Senate this afternoon adopted a resolution calling upon the board for all information on existing contracts and the steps taken to cancel them.

PLANT OFFICIAL PRAISES OAKLAND

Alexander J. Porter, chairman of the board of directors of the Pacific Coast Shredded Wheat Company of this city and also of the parent plant at Niagara Falls, N. Y., who is here on a business trip, is registered at the Hotel Oakland. He is accompanied by Mrs. Porter and his daughter, Miss Katherine Porter. Porter, who is on his second visit to this city, said:

"I am tremendously impressed with the wonderful growth and possibilities of Oakland. This city has a most promising future. The great shipbuilding industry here bespeaks a marvelous development for Oakland. The future trade outlook with Siberia and other countries is most highly encouraging. The expansion of business will no doubt prove very rapid, as the bringing about of peace insures unhampered growth."

Porter visited Vancouver and Victoria, B. C.; Seattle and Portland on his way down the coast. At Vancouver he visited his son, Alexander L. Porter, and called on the company's sales manager, Walter S. McGuire, at Portland, Ore.

Besides the Oakland plant the company has two large shredded wheat plants at Niagara Falls on the American side and another on the Canadian side. Porter states that in this way the operation of the three plants can be carried on to better advantage by shifting help back and forth as the occasion demands, thus being enabled to get capacity output at all times.

Porter says that he has never seen the business and crop outlook better on the Pacific coast. He reports a vastly increased acreage of wheat seeded in all the states that he visited. Plowing and seeding are in progress everywhere, he states.

He states that his company has assisted the government in every possible way in conserving wheat. This conservation movement, he says, has been a wonderful campaign of education. The people of the entire world are learning, according to the visitor, that wheat is the great essential of life.

The shredded wheat process eliminates all waste, he says, using 100 per cent of the grain, while about 70 per cent is used by flour mills, which convert the remainder into bran, shorts, etc.

Porter states that the success of the Pacific coast shredded wheat plant, which was established in this city in 1916, has met with success far beyond the most sanguine expectations of its owners. He speaks in high praise of F. M. Clough, vice-president, and James Travers, general manager, who have been in charge of the local plant of the company. The outlook for the industry both in this city and elsewhere has never been more encouraging, according to the visitor.

Four-Minute Men Called to Meeting

In an effort to bring the four-minute men together again and to take up the work of drilling, which was interrupted by the Spanish influenza epidemic, a meeting of the members has been called by E. A. Banning, chairman of Company F, to be held at the gymnasium in the city hall at 7:45 p. m. next Tuesday. Company F of Oakland has a membership of 114, and the regiment, which includes members from all parts of the county, numbers 700 men.

The plan of the members of the regiment, according to Banning, is to remain together as a full military organization in order to properly receive the boys who will soon return from "over there." Regular drills are to be held hereafter. Banning says that after the home-coming of troops is all over the regiment may maintain its organization as a fancy drill organization. Arrangements for a ball at the Auditorium, which was called off owing to the epidemic, is to be held in the near future, according to Banning.

Churma Was Going Down Hill Fast—Like New Man Since Taking Tanlac

"I'm simply feeling like a different man since I began taking Tanlac," said Charlie Churma Jr., of 123 Faraliones street, San Francisco, recently, "and everybody is talking about how much better I'm looking." Mr. Churma was for many years employed by the United Railway of San Francisco, but for something over a year now he has been employed at the Bethlehem Shipyards.

"Just about one year and three months ago," he continued, "I weighed around two hundred pounds, but since that time I have fallen off as a result of stomach trouble, until I only weighed one hundred and fifty and hardly looked like myself anymore. I was continually having attacks of indigestion. My food would sour and the gas formed by it would bloat me all up and cause severe pain in my stomach and right side. My liver was sluggish and inactive and I had awful dizzy spells. My blood seemed to rush to my head and I would get so dizzy I would have to grab hold of something to keep from falling. I was habitually constipated, and got so I couldn't rest at night, and what little sleep I did get was so disturbed by bad dreams that it seemed to do me no good. For a month or so, before I began taking Tanlac, I was troubled with something like lumbago. My back across my kidneys hurt me terribly and it just seemed to me I was losing out in every way.

"One day I was telling one of the boys at the shipyard that I had no appetite and just felt 'all in,' and he told me to get a bottle of Tanlac, saying that his sister-in-law was taking it and that she had gained eleven pounds in just a short time. So, on my way home that night, I got a bottle and I'm certainly glad I did, for it helped me from the very first few doses. My appetite picked up and the first thing I knew my stomach had stopped bothering me entirely. No matter now what I eat, or how much, I never have any trouble from it. I haven't had any of those dizzy spells either, since I started on Tanlac, and I have never found anything as good for constipation as those Tanlac Laxative Tablets. The pains have all left my sides and back and nobody has anything on me when it comes to sleeping. I get nine hours of good sound sleep every night and get up in the mornings feeling like a new man. I have more strength and energy and can do my work without getting tired like I did. I haven't weighed, but I know I have picked up considerably for everyone I meet up with has something to say about how much greater and better I'm looking. I am telling others about Tanlac every chance I get, for it certainly will build a fellow up in fine shape."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company stores.—Advertisement.

HERR BALLIN'S LETTER TELLS HUNS WOULD DO

LONDON, Nov. 21 (By British Wireless Press).—"We should have demanded the occupation of London and Paris and would have dictated peace at Buckingham palace if Germany had won the war," says a letter to the Weser Zeitung, written by the late Albert Ballin, former head of the Hamburg-American line. Herr Ballin went on to say that Germany would have annexed the whole European continent, from the Ural mountains to the Bay of Biscay.

Miss McElrath to Be Bride at Noon Next Tuesday

Informal invitations to about sixty guests have been sent out by Mrs. Elsie Alden McElrath for the marriage of her daughter, Miss Ann Edwards McElrath, and Lieutenant Warren F. Meyers, U. S. A., with the Tank Corps. Orders from the capital have brought sudden changes to the young officer and his bride-to-be, among them the setting of the date of their wedding for Tuesday next at high noon, the setting to be at Trinity Episcopal church.

To the regret of their friends, the marriage of the young couple will mark their departure for the East, Lieutenant Meyers having just been ordered to report again to Washington, D. C., and with his bride will leave for that city immediately following the wedding. Thence, it is expected that he will go to Camp Dix, New Jersey, to be stationed in the future.

There will be no attendants upon the couple, the ceremony to be very simple in its appointment.

The guest list will include largely the members of the two families, the McElrath family being one of the most representative in the bay section, of which there are many ramifications.

Lieutenant Meyers is a graduate of Wabash College in Indiana, which he attended after leaving Berkeley. He is a relative of Mrs. W. B. Wilshire, Mrs. Jack Bohlemus and Mrs. Harold Plummer of San Francisco.

Mrs. Guyon W. Cortelyou, chairman of the mystery section of the West Oakland Home, will entertain the committee of this section at her home on Tuesday, the members to complete the boxes for this feature of the bazaar. Those who will meet next Tuesday will be Mrs. Walter Broeder, Mrs. Fred Hauger, Mrs. W. J. Holbrook, Mrs. L. Cunningham, Mrs. W. E. Fites, Mrs. Clifford Pruett, Mrs. F. A. Stearns, Mrs. S. Randall, Mrs. O. W. Roberts, Mrs. G. Colleano, Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Fred Wells.

The benefit card party planned for the apron committee of the West Oakland Home will be held at Starr King hall, also on Tuesday of next week, Mrs. E. J. Murphy, chairman, and her committee to arrange for the pleasure of the guests. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

The Belgian Relief Board met yesterday afternoon at Miss Ransom's school to arrange for the jubilee which they are to hold the 30th of this month for the benefit of the Oakland-Piedmont chapter. Miss Marion Ransom, chairman, and the members of the board are to complete the details for the affair and will carry on the work of reconstruction throughout the coming months.

Saturday, Miss Esther Sittig will be hostess at tea in honor of Miss Ethelwynne Sites of San Anselmo, a former University of California student, who is visiting at her sorority chapter house—the Alpha Chi Omega. Fifty guests have been bidden to meet Miss Sites.

The Inter-Allied Council of Arts, of which Bernard Maybeck is president, will hold a luncheon at Tait's in San Francisco Friday at 12:30 o'clock at which a discussion will be held on the proposed monuments to fallen war heroes, to be erected on both sides of the bay.

Another Oakland belle to serve in France is Miss Roxana Weihe, who has received her passport for France and expects to leave within the near future for "Over There." Miss Weihe is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Weihe of Piedmont and a sister of Miss Miriam Weihe. She is a gifted musician and with her talent will use her art in the entertainment of the convalescent soldiers abroad. Miss Weihe is to go under the direction of the Red Cross. She has enlisted for a year's service.

Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Buteau and their daughter, Miss Alice Buteau, motored to Del Monte for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens also motored there accompanied by their daughter, Miss Sally Havens.

Rules Restricting New Phones Lifted

Persons who have been waiting for war-time restrictions to be removed so that they may have telephones installed need wait no longer, so far as the restrictions are concerned, for they were ordered removed today by Postmaster-General Burleson. The same order removes the restrictions that have prevented telephone companies extending existing lines and using new appliances unless essential to war activities. The restrictions went into effect August 15.

THE STRUGGLE
BY ZOE BECKLEY

CHAPTER LXXX.

THE "FAMILY" PARTY.

Edith didn't want to go to Lil Blake's intimate little dinner party. Lil's design of furthering whatever incipient love affair there was between her young niece and Edith's brother was only too apparent. The possibility of Edgar's complicating his life and the family's fortunes with a possible fool marriage was not only obnoxious but fraught with greatest danger. Yet it was the best opportunity for Edith to observe the status of things. Not to go would be like trying to avoid peril by merely shutting her eyes.

Ferrol, tired from a hard day at the office, growled ominously at having to dress and dine at the Blakes'.

"That young pill of a niece of Lil's," snarled friend husband, "gives me the willies! She hasn't a brain in her head. She's just something to hang clothes on. Seems to be sorter smitten with your brother, too. Say—that would be a fine outfit, Ned and little Fay, hey, Ede? Both of them'd get stung and serve 'em right!"

John Ferrol would not have spoken thus had he known each word was a separate stab at Edith. But he was tired and cross and a human being to boot, and he had a just grievance against Ned Flowerton. Edith realized all this, and, biting her lips, kept still.

By various wifely strategems she got him to make the arduous transfer from his crumpled office togs to his "good suit," the trousers of which she had labored in a hot kitchen to press that afternoon (it saved a quarter in Arcadia to iron a crease into your husband's trousers). Then Edith donned her own well-worn "dinner gown," the freshening up of which had cost two more hours' work, tacking a bit of snagged net here, a piece of damaged beadwork there, and trying to "fake" an expression of newness where antiquity was. At last they got there, to find it was one of Lillie Blake's "parties" at its partiest. Both Lil and Al were resplendent.

There was a big bowl on the living room table with a filling of asparagus fern. From beneath the greenery red ribbons emerged on each of which dangled what Lil called "a real hand-painted" card. Each card bore the name of a guest and when the guest followed up the ribbon a "souvenir" appeared from under the asparagus.

It was Lil's idea of roguishness to have a kewpie bridal pair of the souvenirs of Fay Summers, her flapper niece, and Ned Flowerton, whom Lil was beginning to regard as a reasonably eligible catch. Fay giggled industriously at her bride kewpie clad in a wreath and veil. Ned eyed his tiny groom with a sort of quizzical seriousness. To Edith, watching him yearningly, it was as if he were rather favorably considering the idea suggested by the puppet.

The same thought occurred to John, apparently, for he nudged his wife and said, with curling lip, "That's about all we need, now Ede—for Mister Flowerton to take unto himself a wife for us to sup—" But Edith shot him a glance that put the emergency brake upon his cynical utterance.

"How can you, John, when you've actually seen Ned's invention work, and work perfectly!" she whispered indignantly.

"That's all right, dear," he defended, "but there's many a slip between the invention and the income. Ned's got to show me. It would be just like him now to go philandering around this empty-headed bit of fluff and forget all about the blooming heater. He's a smart boy all right, Ede, I don't mean to knock him, but to Ned the fun is all in inventing. He doesn't like the commonplace drudgery of getting the thing on the market."

The gayety of the dinner table drowned out John's further observations and Edith was glad to have her mind dragged from the problem that absorbed her days—and often nights. Fleetingly she resolved to have a talk with brother Ned, and under the cheering influence of Lil's excellent claret cup, tried to dismiss the whole subject from her mind.

But it bobbed painfully up again as Lil, raising her glass, proposed a triumphantly-thought-out toast "to the success of the two greatest inventions in the world—water heaters and love!"

Women Move For Benefit of Army Nurses

By GEORGIA G. BORDWELL.

The Women's Committee of the State Council of Defense has begun a campaign of education in the interest of recruits of the Student Nurse Reserve and of Army Nurses.

The campaign is intended to let the American people understand the nurses' situation and cause proper legislation to be enacted to remedy it.

The committee says that the allowance of but $15 a month the first year to a student nurse in an army training school for nurses, and of but $5 to $8 a month in civilian hospitals that make any allowance seems to be a discrimination against the sex, inasmuch as men who are called to the service are given equipment, training, transportation, a monthly compensation and allowance for their families.

The majority of girls who register for the army school of nursing are self-supporting girls—teachers, bookkeepers and stenographers. They give up these positions because of the appeal made to their patriotism and the stress laid upon the fact that their country needs them. It seems that one of the reasons, and the main reason why even a larger proportion of trained nurses have not volunteered for overseas service, is that almost all of them are caring for dependents.

Only $60 a month and the necessity for providing for part of their equipment to go abroad—these things combined—have made many nurses realize that they cannot desert a dependent mother or father, even to give service to their country.

Canadian and Australian nurses have rank, regular pay and allowances, and wear the insignia of their ranks. They travel as officers and have orderlies to carry their luggage.

American nurses have no rank; they are told to provide themselves with light luggage that they can carry themselves, and this they do.

The Women's Committee closes its communication with the statement that nurses should not only be eligible to the war risk insurance as they are now, but also to an allowance for dependents.

LEAGUE TO LAUNCH FAMILY CAMPAIGN.

The National League for Women's Service of Alameda County is about to embark upon a sort of family campaign to try to raise within its own membership $2000.

It has never been the policy of the league to appear before the public, asking for money in any way, either by solicitations or benefits, but the work of the organization has grown to such an extent that new and larger offices have to be maintained, and while the rooms are the contribution of P. E. Bowles, telephones and other expensive accessories have had to be installed.

The National League is made up of many women—some of whom give all that can be expected—because they are untiring in their service, and the organization was formed primarily for service—there are other members who have not been able to give the service they would have liked, and there are others who are well able to give the equivalent in money. Not a great amount will be asked of any one, not more than a dollar, except in unusual circumstances—and this amount will not be asked nor expected from those workers who give of their time far beyond their means.

The league anticipates no trouble in raising the desired amount and the members may watch the mails now just as eagerly as they may, for a letter which will explain the needs and make the request for the money.

OAKLAND CIVIC CENTER WILL MEET TOMORROW.

Oakland Civic Center, with Miss Gail Laughlin and Frank H. Benson as speakers, will meet tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at the Hotel Oakland.

The enthusiasm of the members of the class in Braille writing for the blind, which was conducted last month by Miss Kate Foley, State teacher for blind, at the rooms of the Women's Committee, Council of Defense, and under its auspices, has been the means of forming a second class, in this new and fascinating pastime, a pastime which has brought gayety and good cheer into the darkened lives of any number of returned soldiers who are going through the hard period of readjustment, that they may take their place in the industrial world as self-supporting and welcome citizens.

The old class will continue its work and it will meet for the first time since the flu has fled next Friday at 1:30 p. m.

At 2 o'clock the new class will meet; applications should be made at 420 Central Bank building.

WOULD HALT LUXURIES.

TOKYO, Nov. 21.—"Japan is contemplating the imposing of a tax on luxuries. One aim of the proposed tax is to check the growth of luxurious tendencies among the people.

Keith & Pantages

"THE THREE BEARS" IS HIT AT FULTON.

Oaklanders are crowding the Fulton Playhouse this week to renew acquaintance with a modified version of the old nursery favorite, "The Three Bears," with Maude Fulton as the irresistible "Goldilocks," whose innocent audacity and gay sweetness charm the three men in the play and delight the audience.

This will be the last opportunity to see Miss Fulton as star for many a moon, as she plans to devote her entire time to writing the plays that will be produced at her theater.

Sunday matinee will see the advent of a new leading woman, Miss Rhea Mitchell, the well known movie actress, who will open in "The Little Teacher," the vehicle in which Maude Fealy was so successful.

"The Little Teacher" is an appealing story of the trials of a pretty pedagogue whose unconventional ways of teaching get her in bad with the narrow-minded citizens of a Vermont village.

PANTAGES BILL SHOWS "PEP" AFTER VACATION.

All of the performers on the Pantages bill are so glad to get back into harness after their enforced vacation that they are full of pep, ginger and jazz and are giving the liveliest of performances to the keen delight of the patrons. The musical comedietta, "Oh, Charmed," continues to appeal. Bernard Wheeler and Adele Potter offer an amusing singing and talking diversion labeled, "A Phonie Episode." The number is replete with lively chatter, good singing and especially clever dancing. Other acts that are likable are Regal and Mack, Sherman, Van & Hyman, the Kremka Bros., Dorothy Woodrough and Ruth Roland in "Hands Up."

T. & D. ANNIVERSARY PROGRAM APPEALING.

This is anniversary week at the T. & D. theater and the program of music and screen attractions will be especially alluring. John Wharry Lewis has arranged the musical score of the overture, "Fantastic Themes from Carmen." The screen program, beginning today until Saturday, includes Bessie Barriscale in "The Heart of Rachael," and William Russell in "Hobbs in a Hurry."

Comparing the frivolities of society life with that in the home, love and motherhood, "The Heart of Rachael" appears. In the cast will be seen Grace Travers, Oakland girl who made her debut to the stage at the old Liberty Theater some seven years ago. "Hobbs in a Hurry," a mile-a-minute photoplay. John Wharry Lewis is himself proving an additional attraction. Truly has the leader brought an "orchestra with a soul" to the T. & D.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG AT FRANKLIN THEATER.

Today Clara Kimball Young makes her initial bow to Franklin theater audiences, in a story of the African wilds, "The Savage Woman." Ever since Rider Haggard wrote "She," the beautiful heroine clad in scanty but picturesque garb has been a favorite character in fiction, and it is an attractive part that Miss Young plays, dressed in a leopard skin, and running barefooted through the jungle.

Her beauty is enhanced by the change from barbaric simplicity of costume to the smartness of modern dress.

A new comedy accompanies "The Savage Woman," also a Paramount Pictograph, and a News Weekly, hot off the wires.

THREE GOOD OFFERINGS AT BROADWAY THEATER.

Triple in attractiveness, the Broadway theater screen program for today and tomorrow will offer Mary Pickford in a revived version of "The Eagle's Mate," Frank Keenan in "Honor Thy Name," and Fatty Arbuckle in "A Barnyard Romeo."

"The Eagle's Mate" is one of Mary Pickford's early triumphs on the screen. It is virtually a sequel to "Tess of the Storm Country." The story has been revamped and strengthened to a degree that makes it a masterpiece. Frank Keenan needs no introduction in "Honor Thy Name" the famous actor has one of the greatest portrayals he has appeared in. For comedy, "A Barnyard Romeo" has few equals. This program will be seen today and tomorrow only.

UNUSUAL BILL IS OFFERED AT ORPHEUM.

When seven headline acts are placed, out of three big Orpheum bills, into one single bill, the effect is decidedly unusual. This week's bill consists of seven headliners and a few other attractions, a situation unparalleled in local theatrical history. It happened because the influenza closed many theaters, and 5 bills, complete, waited here for orders. There were Julius Tannen, the famous "Chatterbox," and Madame Doree's celebrities, on one of the bills; Yvette Saranoff, James Watts and Rex Storey, and the Florenze Duo, heading another, and Imhof Conn and Coreene and the Lightner Girls and Alexander heading another.

When the order came to open the Oakland Orpheum these had first opportunity, of course, to "open," and the result was the biggest surprise vaudeville has ever seen locally.

Madame Doree and her celebrities offer operatic stars' work; Julius Tannen "speaks the public mind." Imhof Conn and Coreene appear in their travesty "The Fest House." The Florenze Duo offer magical experiments, James Watts and Rex Story in "A Test in Travesty" offer just that, the Lighter Girls and Alexander have a snappy singing act; Yvette and Saranoff, with some costumes, dances and two violins, have a European novelty.

Every act that plays the San Francisco Orpheum plays the Oakland Orpheum also. The Orpheum is playing matinees daily.

MACDONOUGH READY FOR GRAND OPENING.

Everything is ready for the opening of the Macdonough next Sunday matinee. The Roy Claire Musical Revues, which have been secured by Manager Guy Smith for the coming season, will lead the weekly changes of program of vaudeville and pictures.

Five of the best acts of Hippodrome vaudeville will come to Oakland every week. The daily matinees and two shows nightly will be given in a playhouse which has been entirely renovated. The most modern ventilating system procurable has been installed.

Pearl Jardiniere and Fritz Field, eccentric character comedians, will appeal. Hazel Lake, soubrette, and Francis Young, juvenile, will dance and sing. Walter Spencer, Al Jolson favorite, and Phyllis Gordon, prima donna, will take leading parts, and Claire himself will entertain. Of pretty, musical girls there will be a round dozen.

WILLIAM FARNUM DRAWS AT AMERICAN.

William Farnum in "The Rainbow Trail," sequel to Zane Grey's "Riders of the Purple Sage," and Leon Rosebrook's Symphony Orchestra, are the attractions which are drawing and pleasing capacity houses at the American Theater this week.

William Farnum has never appeared to better advantage. He assumes a dual role, appearing as Lassiter, the hard riding, straight shooting fun-man and Shefford, his kinsman, who sets out to rescue Lassiter. "The Rainbow Trail" is full of intensely dramatic situations.

The new American Symphony Orchestra of fourteen soloists, under the directorship of Mr. Rosebrook, has already established itself.

MAN OF MYSTERY ON KINEMA SCREEN.

The man of mystery still holds the screen at the Kinema, and until Saturday Bill Hart will play the roll of Riddle Gawne. As the man of mystery, Hart is easily justified. A double tragedy robs him of his brother and leaves him with a wee simpleton pal to educate. He puts "the revenge stuff" over, although losing not a whit of the sweetness of his role of foster father to fat little Jane.

Next week the Kinema brings back Mary Pickford with a whole regiment of Oakland boys falling in love with her. Who could help it? "Johanna Enlists" is that famous film wherein she adopted those boys of ours.

K. OF C. TO OPEN WEST ASSEMBLY

Arrangements are being completed for the opening in San Francisco tomorrow morning of the provincial assembly of the Knights of Columbus, following the arrival in that city last night from Prescott, Ariz., of Robert E. Morrison, vice-supreme master of the order. Morrison is being entertained by the knights of Oakland, San Francisco and other bay cities.

The assembly will open at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning with a solemn high mass at St. Mary's cathedral in San Francisco. The business meeting of the assembly will be called to order at the St. Francis hotel by Vice-Supreme Master Robinson at 11:45. Meetings will be held daily until the middle of next week. Archbishop Hanna, who is a knight, is expected to take part in the deliberations.

The western states are grouped in Junipero Serra Province, which is presided over by Morrison.

These masters of the fourth degree will be in attendance at the assembly:

John M. Boyle of Tacoma, representing Washington and Oregon; James A. Welch of Helena, representing Montana and Idaho; Charles A. Maguire of Ogden, representing Colorado and Wyoming; Leo J. McCarthy of Oakland, representing North California and Nevada; Patrick J. McGarry of Los Angeles, representing Southern California.

Snow in Sierra Promises Power

Snowfall in the Sierra Nevada mountains so early in the season is highly encouraging to District Weather Forecaster E. A. Beals, who announces that if the fall of snow continues later in the season there will be an abundance of power for hydro-electric plants. The forecaster states that no snow fell in the Sierras last year until January. This year, he says, snow began to make its appearance early in September, and has been coming down at frequent intervals since. According to reports, there were six inches of snow on the summit last Monday and fifteen inches on Tuesday.

Parents Hunting for Missing Youth

Apprehension as to the fate of their 17-year-old son, Herbert, is expressed by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hoffman, 228 Third street, Richmond. The young man, who was in the employ of the Standard Oil Company at Richmond, where he had worked about a year, disappeared from his home Tuesday morning, according to his father, and has not been heard from since.

Inquiry at the office of the company brought forth the information that young Hoffman had drawn his wages, approximately $60, and left. He is said to have informed one fellow-workman that he intended to go to Marshallville, Ore., to work for the same company, and told another that he had given up his position to learn a trade. A telegram was sent to the company at Marshallville in the hope that the young man had gone there, but the reply was to the effect that he had not been seen.

According to the elder Hoffman, his son was a young man of steady habits and had never been away from home; neither had he expressed dissatisfaction with his surroundings. Accordingly the parents are at a loss to understand his sudden disappearance. Mrs. Hoffman has just returned from a hospital, where she was seriously ill.

California "Over" in Drive for War Fund

Los Angeles was over the hill and San Francisco was shy $75,000, but expected belated reports today to fill in the quota of $1,217,100.

Trained Nurse Gives Recipe For Gray Hair

Gives Recipe for Simple Home-Made Remedy That Quickly Darkens It.

Mrs. A. Dixon, a well known Brooklyn trained nurse, made the following statement regarding gray hair: "Streaked, faded or gray hair can be quickly turned black, brown or light brown, by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home:

"Merely get a small box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for mixing and use come in each box.

"You need not hesitate to use Orlex, as a $100.00 gold bond comes in each box guaranteeing the user that Orlex does not contain silver, lead, zinc, mercury, aniline, coal-tar products or their derivatives.

"It does not rub off, is not sticky or gummy and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger."—Advertisement.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION ISSUED HERE

MAYOR JOHN L. Davie this morning issued a Thanksgiving proclamation, and appointed a committee representing the various war work, civic, religious and labor organizations of the city to make the arrangements.

The proclamation is as follows:

To the People of Oakland:

Our President has set aside November 28 for the day to join in thanks to God for the blessings which we have enjoyed during the past year. The part Americans played in the great world victory will be uppermost in our minds. We, who are privileged to enjoy the fruits of victory, must be mindful of the sacrifices so patriotically made.

Our thanks must be made mindful of the mothers and fathers who must give their thanks resting upon the divine assurance that their loved ones gave their lives to righteousness and the establishment of a permanent peace. Thanksgiving, the first American holiday, will this year find our people victoriously coming from a battle which found men and women ready to sacrifice their lives and an unresistible spirit of sacrifice prevailing throughout the country.

We are just coming out from the throes of a dread epidemic which has brought sadness to many homes and the coming forward of volunteer workers who were as much in danger as if on the firing line of battle, is another glaring example of the prevailing spirit of sacrifice which has more firmly united Americans as Americans.

For the Thanksgiving entertainment which will be given in our Auditorium and open to the boys in uniform, I am hereby appointing the following committee, representing the various war work, religious and labor organizations:

George A. Cummings, Joseph N. Borroughs, Harmon Johnson and Alexander Stewart, representing the War Camp Community Service; Rev. F. J Van Horn, Rev. Edward P. Dempsey, Frederick Kerrick and Rabbi Franklin, representing the religious denominations; H. C. Capwell, Chamber of Commerce; Chas. H. J. Truman, Merchants Exchange; Hon. Joseph R. Knowland, Oakland Red Cross; Harman Bell, War Service League; Miss Ethel Moore, Women's Council of Defense; E. D. Wolf, B. H. Welch, John L. Martin, C. Perry and Tony Quintal, representing labor organizations.

Immigration Graft Case Is Concluded

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. — The trial of Clarence E. Ebey of Piedmont, former immigration inspector at Angel Island and Lee You Ong, co-defendants in the Angel Island graft expose, was suddenly brought to a conclusion today by the absence of witnesses for the defense, and closing arguments were immediately begun by Attorney Samuel M. Shortridge for Ebey, and United States District Attorney Annette A. Adams, representing the government. The case probably will go to the jury late today.

The next trial in the series will be that Hom Yen Wing, who is charged with having illegally entered the country when Ng Fook On, a wealthy Chinese merchant of Stockton, it is alleged, made a false affidavit that Wing was his son and through a forgery and the attachment of a photograph of Wing to the landing record of Hung Fook On obtained the entry of Wing as his son.

Fruitvale Students Make Fine Showing

The Fruitvale school went over the top the third day of the United War Work drive, but the Victory Boys and Victory Girls kept enthusiastically at work until the close and made a record of which the school is proud. They were assigned a quota of 43 contributors and secured 255, or 590 per cent of the assignment. Their assignment of subscriptions was $215 and they secured $266.50, or 124 per cent of their quota.

First place in securing contributors was won by Helmer Johnson, who had twenty subscriptions. Carl Brunzell and Leroy Houston secured nineteen and eighteen respectively.

Funeral of Buck Held at Vacaville

The funeral of Morris Akerly Buck, grandson of the late Rev. Benjamin Akerly, a pioneer clergyman of Oakland, and a nephew of Dr. J. C. S. Akerly of the medical staff of Merritt hospital, took place in Vacaville, Monday, under the auspices of the Vacaville lodge of Masons. He died Sunday following an attack of influenza-pneumonia, which was contracted while engaged in the work of the Red Cross influenza hospital in Vacaville. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Jean Armstrong Buck, three children, Morris A. Buck Jr., Edith Elizabeth and Barbara Jean and his mother, Mrs. Edith Akerly Buck.

Inventor Sues for Interest in Company

John Vukovich, owner of a patented process for protecting and preserving piles against decay, is suing E. Dodge and R. M. Henningsen, of the Concrete Pile Protection Company, for $1700 damages today in Judge Wells' department of the Superior Court.

Vukovich alleges in his suit that he was to receive one-third of the stock of the company, which was formed to build 3000 feet of concrete caisson on a trestle belonging to the Southern Pacific Company as consideration for the use of his patented process. He says that the defendant failed to deliver the stock.

Merchants' Exchange Urges Home Products

The Merchants' Exchange this morning addressed a letter to the City Council asking that that body urge the people of Oakland to use home products in their Thanksgiving celebration the coming week. The letter was signed by Charles H. J. Truman, president of the exchange. The communication was approved by the council and ordered filed.

Auto Runs Into Tree; Woman Driver Hurt

Dorothy Crane, living at 1149 Bay View avenue, was seriously injured this morning when the machine which she was driving collided with a tree at Hopkins street and Excelsior avenue. She was thrown from the car, sustaining severe bruises of the body and a laceration above the right eye. She was taken to the emergency hospital and later removed to her home.

PLANS TO PAVE STREETS.

Immediate plans to pave Jefferson street from Eighth to Twelfth and Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh streets, from Clay to Market, are being formed by Commissioner Jackson on the strength of an order from Washington lifting the ban on the use of road oil and asphaltum. In the future the city will be able to place orders without securing permits from the government.

WAGON SMASHED BY MOTORCYCLE; THREE INJURED

SAN JOSE, Nov. 21.—A motorcycle ridden by Andrew Silveria and Manuel Perry, both of Berryessa, ran into a buggy, or cart, driven by G. Giacoso of 644 North Tenth street, last night, smashing the wagon and badly injuring the riders of the motorcycle and also somewhat injuring the driver of the wagon.

The motorcycle is reported to have been going at a high rate of speed and the riders were thrown a long distance by the impact.

The motorcyclists were taken to the Columbia Hospital, where it was discovered that Silveria's right hip was dislocated and that Perry was suffering from a concussion of the brain.

When the police reached the scene of the accident nothing was found of Giacoso or his horse, but it was said that he had been cared for by his friends.

Fuel Increased for Brick Manufacture

New detailed orders increasing by 50 per cent the amount of fuel that may be used by manufacturers of common building brick, paving brick or blocks, sanitary ware, roofing tile, floor and wall tile, terra cotta, hollow tile or drain tile, sewer pipe, stone ware and cement, have been issued by Albert E. Schwabacher, federal fuel administrator for California.

Manufacturers of building or paving brick, roofing, floor and wall tiles and terra cotta may now consume fuel or power derived from fuel to an amount not exceeding 75 per cent of the average annual amount used during the period from January 31, 1917.

Manufacturers of hollow tile, drain tile or sewer pipe are permitted to use 87½ per cent of the annual amount of fuel consumed during the same period; manufacturers of stone ware 92½ per cent of the average annual amount; and manufacturers of cement may produce 87½ per cent of their average annual production of the years 1915, 1916 and 1917.

Pioneer's Funeral to Be Held Tomorrow

Frederick Prescott, 71, a pioneer of California, died suddenly on November 18 of heart trouble at his home, 902 East Twenty-fourth street. He has been general manager of the New Home Sewing Machine company for many years, and came to California thirty-five years ago. Thirty-three years of this time he has lived in East Oakland.

Prescott is survived by a widow, Lilly E. Prescott, a son, Harry S. Prescott, and three grandchildren, Leo, Margaret and Harry Prescott. Harry is in the navy. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon from the family home. The body has been held for the arrival of the son from Galveston, but he cannot leave camp.

Mrs. Fern Galindo Hurt in Auto Wreck

Only One Corn Peeler, "Gets It"

Stop Corn Pains; See Corn Peel Off.

It is just when a corn hurts that you want to feel surest about getting rid of it. Why take chances of keeping the corn and having the pain grow worse? You'll use "Gets-It" any how, sooner or later; might as well use it sooner. Then you are absolutely sure that the corn will loosen from your toe so that you can peel the whole thing off painlessly with your fingers, in one complete piece—just like peeling a banana. It takes a second or two to apply "Gets-It." There's no fussing or puttering. Corn-pains will vanish—that'll keep you sweet while the "Gets-It" does the rest. Nothing new for corns has been discovered since "Gets-It" was born. Follow the judgment of the millions; use "Gets-It" and be sure to be corn and pain free! You'll say it's magic.

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Oakland at all stores of The Owl Drug Co.—Advertisement.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body, which, if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins, which are then absorbed into the blood, causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make any one a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.—Advertisement.

BERKELEY CAR SERVICE CHANGED

BERKELEY, Nov. 21.—Following a conference this morning between W. R. Alberger, general manager of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways, and members of the Berkeley city council, a complete revision of the present street car service afforded residents of the college city was announced by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Charles D. Heywood.

All of the main lines operating in Berkeley, with the exception of Shattuck avenue cars, will be changed to conform with a new arrangement planned to give more efficient service to residents of the city.

The old West Berkeley-North Berkeley service in operation several years ago will be restored instead of the present arrangement whereby Telegraph avenue cars proceed to the foot of University avenue.

Following is the new service schedule:

College avenue cars to proceed down Allston way to Oxford, north on Oxford to University, west on University to Shattuck, thence return to Oakland via Shattuck avenue, Bancroft way and on College avenue.

Telegraph avenue cars to follow present course and to return to Oakland via Grove street.

Grove street cars to follow present course and return to Oakland via Telegraph avenue.

New line to be inaugurated with terminals at Third street and University avenue and head of Spruce street.

Complete loops will be made by the Telegraph and Grove street lines, the cars proceeding to Berkeley on one street and returning to Oakland on the other. The new West Berkeley-North Berkeley line will follow the route now traveled by Telegraph avenue cars as far as University and Shattuck avenues, proceeding to North Berkeley over the present route of the Grove street cars.

LATEST MUSICAL REVUES COMING TO MACDONOUGH

PEARL JARDINIERE

Roy Clair Musical Revues Open Sunday With "Something Doing" and Vaudeville.

THERE will be "Something Doing" next week at the Macdonough Theater, which opens with a big matinee Sunday afternoon. "Something Doing" is the title of the first of the series of Roy Clair Musical Revues that will entertain Oaklanders during the coming winter season. The play is as good as its name and there will not be a dull moment from the time Clair's new company of 25 people takes the stage until the last curtain call.

Manager Guy Smith has made arrangements to give Oakland audiences something they have never had before, a big three-in-one show on the plan which has made the Hippodrome-Will King productions a big success across the bay.

There will be five big acts of Hippodrome vaudeville on each weekly bill and the latest releases in motion pictures will be shown. There will be matinees daily and two shows every evening and the prices will be exceptionally low—three shows for the price of one.

At a great expense, Manager Clair has brought to the Macdonough a company of musical and laugh-making talent. Roy Clair himself is a real comedian and he will be aided in his work by Pearl Jardiniere and Fritz Fields, both clever eccentric character comedians.

Walter Spencer and Phyllis Gordon, both musical revue stars, will take leading parts in the Clair productions and the group of clever songbirds will introduce the latest song hits from the east. Hazel Lake, soubrette, will quickly win the hearts of appreciative audiences.—Advertisement.

The resettlement franchise ordinance, framed by the resettlement franchise commission appointed by the mayor, was discussed in its various aspects yesterday afternoon by a committee consisting of Perry F. Brown, city engineer; Ralph A. Beebe, consulting engineer to the city; Lon W. Cummings, city clerk; Clay S. Heck, harbor engineer; H. L. Hakan, city attorney, and I. H. Clay, city auditor.

Charles E. Beardsley, attorney for the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways, was also present and presented the company's side of the proposition for the benefit of the committee. The principal matters discussed were

Oaklander Arrested on Failure Charge

John F. Crandall, living at 1228 Chestnut street, was arrested today in San Francisco by Inspectors Joseph Robinson and James Flynn on a charge preferred by his wife of failure to provide for two minor children.

Crandall, it is alleged, has declared that he will not provide for his children, and on several occasions threatened to leave the State. Yesterday he left for San Francisco, preparatory to leaving California, it is believed. He was arrested, however, before he could make plans for his departure.

the powers of the board of control, provided for in the ordinance, and the method of figuring depreciation. Another session will be held tomorrow afternoon.

13-Year-Old Boy Runs Grocery

Widow, Mother of 4, Dies of Flu

Benjamin Broesheer, who has learned "by experience," is the youngest grocery store keeper in Oakland. Moreover, Benjamin is the senior of a family of four. He is thirteen. His experience in the selling of staples came when he bartered a can of beans for twenty cents more than its retail price and heard from it later. Now he is very careful.

One thing, however, does his Telegraph avenue establishment lack, it boasts no "all-day suckers." They were sold when Benjamin last week had a "college supper."

"I made all the guys pay for them, of course," declared the young grocery store owner whose concern has naturally descended to him through the death of his mother. "No guy can come in here and eat off of me. He has to pay his own way but he can have all the fun he can get out of it in my store." His comrades have agreed and so popular have juveniles made the firm that adults have not much chance.

WIDOW MOTHER DIES.

Mrs. Clentie Brosheer, a well educated Kentucky woman, built up a good business at 4285 Telegraph avenue. Her husband had died three months before her fourth child was born and it was left to her alone to make the living for the little flock. She was doing it nobly. October 9, the epidemic touched the small household and the mother was taken to the Municipal Auditorium. Three weeks ago she died.

Benjamin, her eldest, has assumed care of the business, and the rest of the family includes Clinton, a pale little chap of 10; Elizabeth, age 8, and John, 6, who is convalescing from influenza. Red Cross has extended its offer of aid and other organizations have had a care of the young children, but Benjamin assures them all with true southern gallantry "that there really is nothing that any one can do."

WILL SELL STORE.

He proposes as quickly as possible to dispose of his establishment at the best terms. Daily he is expecting his uncle, Dr. Brosheer, a prominent physician in Kentucky, to come west and take care of the children whose guardian he is. A great aunt, Mrs. W. J. Bryan, 473 Thirty-seventh street, and his mother's friends are in the meantime looking out for the youngsters.

Benjamin this morning was tilted back in his chair, reading "Young Aviators" while waiting for customers. He had completed a sketch in red ink of an Indian warrior. His audible wish was that some one would come along and keep store for him while he went on an all-night hike "with the guys." Several neighbors were looking in to see how he progressed.

"You have some new pink drink," they charged him who had been instructed to buy no new stock.

"I like it and the fellows buy it," was the haughty reply.

SHREWDNESS IS SUFFICIENT.

"Nothing doing," he declared as he perused a circular which offered a case of goods free, "Hickey, they expect a fellow to buy a case before they'll give him one. I'm too wise for that."

"Clinton, you get out of here. You are no storekeeper," he urged the wistful brother. "I got business to attend to."

Clinton departed.

"The day is pretty long and awfully busy," he explained. "I get up at 6 and open up at 7. I can't close until six if I'm going to make any money. A fellow has to get some sleep. That means I have to go to bed at nine. My, but I get tired."

Last June Benjamin entered the Technical High School with honors from the grammar grades.

"I'm pretty smart in school," he is frank in admitting. "I guess I'm going back, if I can get this business off my hands."

But in the meantime he is selling cakes and crackers to the youngsters and dealing out flour and salt to his mother's customers, with all the experience that the badly sold can of beans taught.

ENTIRE HARMONY IN SENATE G. O. P.

By D. O. MARTIN,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Complete harmony in Senate Republican ranks was forecast today. Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee, was to confer with Republican regulars and Progressives on a "get-together" program. Hays' task will not be difficult, leading Republicans predicted. They have outlined a peace program designed to placate Progressives, who have been demanding changes in certain chairmanships of Senate committees and modification of the seniority rule.

This peace committee, which leaders hope will end all insurgency, includes the nomination of Senator Poindexter of Washington, a Progressive, as president pro tem of the Senate, and the placing of Norris, Cummins, Kenyon and other Progressives at the head of the important committees, but keeps Penrose as finance chairman.

Under the proposed plan Republicans also would support the Norris substitute for the rule of seniority in selecting committee chairmen with some amendments.

Parochial Schools Over Top in Drive

Miss Genevieve McKeever, who was appointed county director of the Victory Girls for the parochial schools, and Charles Bannon, county director for the Victory Boys, report the parochial schools as having raised more than their respective quotas in the United War Work campaign.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! See if Tongue Is Coated, Breath Hot or Stomach Sour.

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grownups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Old Prescription For Weak Kidneys

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend for in almost every case it shows excellent results as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy that I know of has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that, so many people claim, it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by Parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Oakland Daily Tribune. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

NEWS OF THE SHIPYARDS

Saturday afternoon, the 31st 9400-ton steel ship built at the plant of the Moore Shipbuilding and Dock Co. will leave the ways. Immediately following the launching another keel will be laid. The new vessel will be named the Mulpau. She will have her trial trip late in December and will be turned over to the United States Shipping Board immediately thereafter. The launching ceremonies on Saturday will be attended by officials of the shipping board and of the Moore plant.

After undergoing a general caulking at the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, the wooden steamer Marshfield, built at Aberdeen, Washington, for the United States Emergency Fleet Corporation, is anchored in the estuary awaiting orders. The vessel is one of a number that were constructed on rush orders for the government, none of which, it is stated, has proved altogether seaworthy. Green timber used in their construction is the cause given for most of the defects they have developed. Several of these ships are at Eastbay shipyards awaiting a general overhauling.

Among the ships moored off the Alameda plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation awaiting repairs is the Cocoino, the ship which recently jammed on the ways at the Moore shipbuilding plant. The steamer Aurlen is at the Bethlehem plant for general repairs as is also the schooner Inca. The new wooden steamer Annetta Rolph, built for the Hind-Rolph Co., at the Rolph yard at Eureka, will leave the Bethlehem yard for her trial trip on Saturday. The Bethlehem people had the contract to outfit the vessel with machinery.

Unofficial reports are to the effect that another large ship is to be built at the Mare Island navy yard and that work will begin early next year. The announcement is believed in shipping circles to presage the continuance of extended shipbuilding operations at the yard despite the close of the war. It had been rumored the working force there was to be considerably reduced.

Preparations are being made at the navy yard to launch another mosquito craft from the ways to the south of the receiving wharf. The machinery is now being installed and when the ship takes the water she will practically be ready for sea.

Canvas to Preserve Scene of Surrender

LONDON, Nov. 21 (By British Wireless Service).—The scene in Admiral Sir David Beatty's cabin on the Queen Elizabeth when the German delegates arranged for the surrender of the German fleet is to be placed on canvas by Sir John Lavery of the Royal Academy. Sir John made a special visit to the Grand Fleet at the request of the British Admiralty to make the preliminary sketches for the painting. He was present in the admiral's cabin during the conference.

There will be fifteen figures in the painting, including Admiral Beatty, Vice-Admiral Sir Montague Browning, Rear-Admiral Sir Reginald Tyrwhit and the five German delegates.

INDEMNITY AND SYMPATHY.

Judging from the present propaganda campaign conducted by the Berlin government to create in Ally countries a feeling of sympathy for Germany, we shall hear much complaint that the Allies demand indemnities for the damage done by the German armies that will be unbearable. The world will be told that Germany will be bankrupt, that the people cannot pay and that they must be shown mercy. But these appeals will have been anticipated and will be answered in the same fashion and temper in which Bismarck replied to France when he was imposing the Versailles treaty of 1871.

The sums which will be demanded of the central powers by the different war sufferers will be huge. Unofficial estimates place the damage suffered by France at $60,000,000,000. Ten billions are mentioned informally as due Belgium. Rumania, Serbia, Montenegro, Russia, Italy and Greece will have large bills. Inasmuch as the Allies have announced that they will demand no punitive indemnities, Germany will be unable to question the major portion of the claims.

Indeed, Germany's peace commissioners will be obliged to admit the legality of practically all the claims. Since she has sued for peace Germany must rest her case entirely on international law as understood in Ally countries and as accepted throughout the civilized world until the Prussian regime of outlawry. While violating the law of nations when it advantaged her so to do, however, Germany adhered to international practice when it meant her benefit. In matters involving form only the law was followed.

Thus, when German troops were sacking a town and robbing the inhabitants the officers gave a receipt for the goods taken and a written promise to pay, which was to be redeemed later—so the officers said. Thereby they sought to give their acts the color of sanction of the law of impressment into the military service of an invading army the property and material, the food and other provisions, of the invaded people. In the early days of the war, at least, they followed this practice. They never intended to pay, but the situation has changed and the promises must be made good.

Vast quantities of material were seized without the formality of receipts and promises of compensation being given. But even under German military "law" they should have been offered. It makes no difference that they were not. The presumption must be permitted that they were intended.

The destruction of property such as homes, public buildings, factories and railroads falls into two classes. Property may be lawfully destroyed when necessary to the safety of a military force. For instance, buildings and other obstructions between a defense line and a point of probable attack from an adversary may be removed. Other and similar acts necessary to successful military operation are permitted. But in all cases the obligation of restoration or indemnity survives. A victorious power usually forces this burden upon the defeated nation. But if the destroyer is beaten he must pay.

Wholesale destruction and the complete denudation of an occupied territory cannot, however, be justified under military necessity, and under this heading practically all the destruction perpetrated in France and Belgium must be classified. Germany cannot dispute the obligation to pay for this.

Indemnification may also be exacted, under the rules of warfare, for crimes committed. Murder of the inhabitants, excesses against the civilian population, must be atoned for to the satisfaction of surviving relatives and their government. Payment must be made for impressed labor behind the lines and for that rendered by citizens deported and enslaved in Germany.

Repayment of the moneys exacted from the occupied municipalities under the guise of fines and contributions will be demanded. Payment must be made for the vast stores of provisions which the cities were forced to deliver through their local officials.

Indemnities under all these headings are purely compensatory and in accordance with the law which Germany has been forced to acknowledge. They are just. The enemy cannot evade them. There is no ground for sympathy with efforts at evasion. And there is no point for division of Allied opinion and judgment on this matter.

AN ISLAND IN THE PACIFIC.

One of the most instructive, and at the same time entertaining, publications that comes to THE TRIBUNE is the Guam News Letter, published under the supervision of the Naval Government of the Island of Guam at Agana. It is largely made up of the proceedings of the government charged with maintaining order and prosperity in this Far Eastern possession of Uncle Sam. But its deadly accuracy of statement does not produce dullness. The governor's orders are themselves lively in news interest.

This journal is probably the most truly democratic organ published anywhere. There is no preferred position for native Chamorra or epauletted naval officer. All items find their place in the pages according to the convenience of the mass of type necessary to print them. The admiral's and the colonel's ladies find the mention of their bridge parties or dinner dances on the same page with the letter from the marine barracks telling of the proclivities, suspected or verified, of Private Leatherneck.

Often the News Letter contains important items not printed elsewhere. There is to be found in the October number, for instance, an account of a typhoon which raged off the northeast coast of Guam in September. The schooner Ethel Zane went down in this storm and the schooner Admiral Sims came limping into Agana port with a broken engine shaft and her $1,000,000 cargo greatly damaged by the heavy seas.

The Ethel Zane, owned by a local firm, sailed out of San Francisco with a $250,000 cargo of gasoline for Manila. The Continent was told of the ship's loss by a meager radiogram. But what a stirring story of a typhoon-stricken boat might have been written. For three days the Ethel Zane raced before the storm with naked masts; then her seams opened, letting water into the holds. The captain and crew had to take to the small boats. But they found these poorly provisioned and went back to the derelict, whose cabin was barely above water, to get more food. Many were injured. The skipper had to set three broken ribs and a broken collar bone in his own body, after which he set several broken bones for members of his crew. When they returned to the boats a four-masted schooner appeared in the moonlight, but refused to answer signals of distress, fearing treachery from a German raider. In the meantime one of the crew was struck by a bolt of lightning, but miraculously escaped with only bad burns.

Another tragedy followed close upon the sinking of the Ethel Zane. When news of her loss reached Manila gasoline in that metropolis of the Philippines soared to $2 a gallon. Just think of no profiteer in the United States knowing about this and being able to use it as an argument for higher prices.

Visitation upon Guam of another storm is told by the News Letter. This one from the governor's office. There is to be no more betting on cock fights in Guam. "Backing one's judgment," we are naively told, "on the fighting qualities of native cocks has long been a pastime for a number of enlisted men who have patronized the pits in Agana and Sumay every Sunday." But the governor's order is as sharp and clear as the scream of a five-inch shell:

"Betting on cock fights is gambling. Gambling is prohibited by the Articles for the Government of the Navy. No person in the naval service, Navy or Marine Corps, may lawfully bet money on cock fights. Violations of this law will be duly punished."

Here is the law promulgated, the facts determined in advance and the application of the law forewarned with a certainty none will pretend to doubt. A social reform is accomplished, with a breezy celerity that at once provokes envy and admiration.

Verily the chroniclings of the News Letter confuse one's emotions. One instant you wish the government of Guam was transferred to the United States, another you wish the United States could be transferred to Guam, and the next instant you desire neither.

Lord Reading, the British ambassador to the United States, urges the Allies to be on guard against German treachery. Surely this warning was unnecessary. The record of the past is so vivid that no thinking citizen in any Ally country ought to forget that the watch on the German can never be relaxed with safety.

The federal government took over the operation of the railway express companies the first of the week and by the middle of the same week the rates on express packages originating in the West were raised 12 cents a hundred pounds. Thus the federal government sustains its consistent record in raising the cost of living.

It is apparent that the Oakland city commissioners can stage an ugly public quarrel over a proposal to purchase a street car company just as easily as they can over the police department and the social evil. It's all the same to them.

NOTES and COMMENT

There is not a sure chance that the President will convoke a session of the new Congress, which will not regularly convene for more than a year. If he should assemble it in extraordinary session what would he do with it?

* * *

Lenine is said to despair of Germany, because the new power at the helm won't let the Bolshevik in. It will not require discussion or deep discernment to bring out the humorously ironical point in this.

* * *

We see frequent mention of the opposition of the Bolsheviki to the bourgeoise. The bourgeoise constitute the substantial element of a country, the element that is below the aristocracy and above the anarchist. It is a difficult element for either to manage, but a very necessary one for national stability.

* * *

The upheaval in Germany has no doubt caused great hardship to the vons and other privileged classes. Anybody familiar with the customs under the monarchy—how the swarm of princes and nobles and titled persons traveled free, and franked their mail and many of them their freight; how especially the princes and princesses were supplied with many things as gifts, because of the supposed prestige that resulted—will appreciate what a sweeping change has resulted from some deadheads being cut off.

Germany wants easier terms. Sure! There are many signs in the public utterances and press items to indicate that a propaganda is well under way. And it may be that it is being assisted by many who do not know it, but have mistaken a mawkish feeling for a humane emotion.

* * *

"Charles of Austria hungry." Not Hungary, with a hyphen, as it used to be; not the ancient kingdom, but the very modern sensation that so many have experienced in connection with this war. And Charles can devote all his time now to philosophizing on the new experience.

* * *

The terms of the armistice have now been carried out to an extent that insures their being observed to the letter. The danger was in chaos and disintegration of the Germanic nation, which would leave no responsible entity to make good the agreement.

The one-time kaiser's document of abdication is represented to contain this clause: "To avoid difficulties and put an end to the mourning and suffering of my people," etc. The most terrible experience that "his people" and the whole civilized people ever went through, resulted from that moral strabismus that prevented his seeing it before for more than four years—indeed, that did not enable him to have a vision before he embarked on his sea of blood.

* * *

"Von Hindenburg under protection of rebel council." Let it be hoped this camouflage for "Hindenburg in custody of the new German government, which is debating what to do with him."

That a man can be too honest was almost proved by a San Francisco woman who sought a divorce. She testified that her husband was that upright that if he owed $1000 and had but $1002, he would pay the debt and expect them to live on the rest. But there is another way of looking at it.

* * *

The Democratic State Central Committee has turned in its account, which shows that $1851.90 was collected as a campaign fund, and $1,403.05 expended, showing remarkable perspicacity. It would have been of no avail if the other $448.85 had been spent and that was realized, which is unusual for a campaign body.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

Nothing like having a good, reliable right wing. On the first leg of his tour of the Mountain Empire yesterday Congressman William Kettner shook approximately 5918 hands and was still in fine condition.—San Diego Union.

The state traveling tractor school under the auspices of the State Board of Education and financed by the State Board of Control will, despite the armistice and the prospects of peace, continue its itinerary. But with Chico, the tractor center of Northern California, not included, it will be like the fascinating narrative of the adventures of Robinson Crusoe with Robinson omitted.—Chico Enterprise.

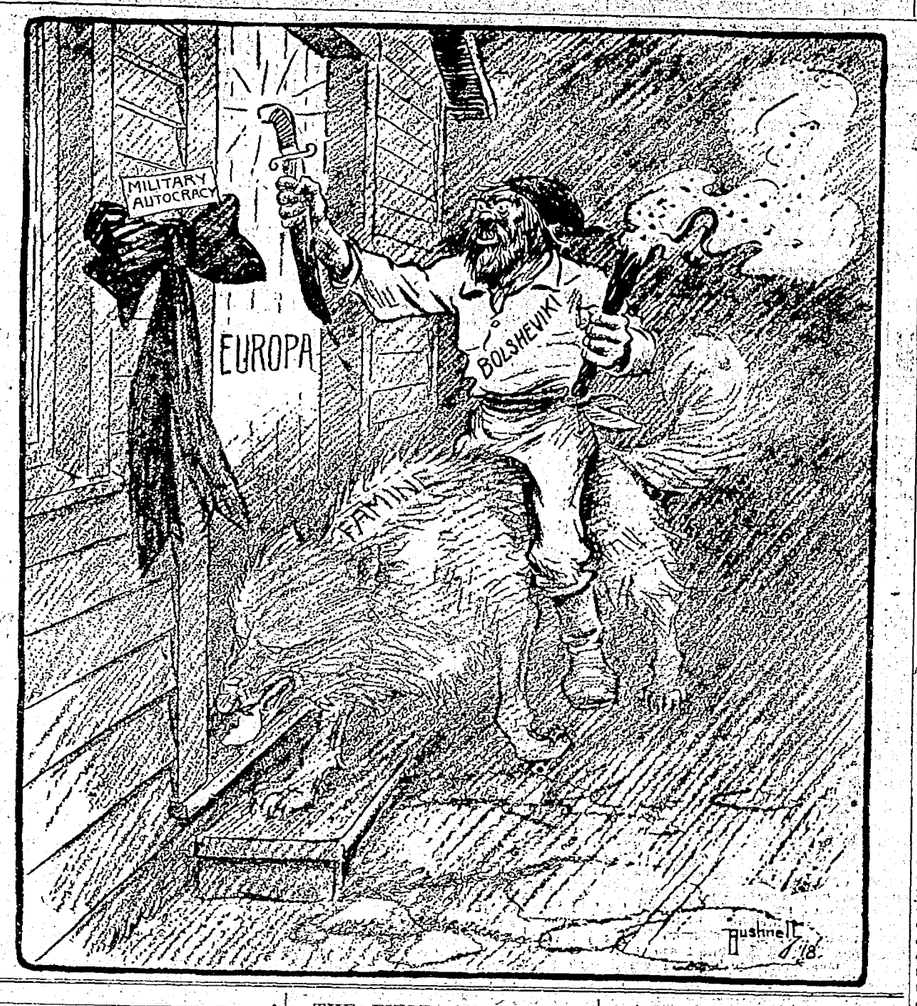

The greatest flood of motor tourist travel from the east that California has ever experienced is the prediction. California's position as the greatest of America's pleasure lands for the motorist is firmly established and unchallenged.—Napa Register.

The voluntary censorship is off the newspapers and it will be all right now to mention the visit of an airplane from Mather Field to Stockton without fear of giving information to the enemy.—Stockton Record.

Now that the rest of the world is making over its government, is it not time for California to consider making over its own manacled constitution? We have just voted on twenty-five amendments to the constitution, ten of which we passed, and several more of which we ought to have passed. Next time there are bound to be a lot more, including some very important ones. By common consent, one of the most immediate reforms needed is the consolidation and co-ordination of commissions.—Fresno Republican.

Some of us are thankful not to have to water the lawn any more, but we'd be just as thankful if we didn't have to unwater the cellar. It was a fine little rain of the old generous California kind that falls alike on the just and the unjust.—Stockton Record.

A PASSING FRONT.

Over in England the stiff white shirt bosom, the starched front of masculine gentility, the snowy expanse that has been so near and dear to the society ornament and the devotee of conventional dress, is said to be on its way to desuetude. The soft shirt the easy negligee, the shirt of comfort, is crowding the shiny fronts from the manly British chests.

In London they say this decline is largely due to the shortage of fuel rations and the increased expense of laundry work, but there is no doubt it can be ascribed in large measure to the general letting down of the social bars. The soft shirt is the garment of democracy. Lincoln has been called a soft shirt man. The soft shirt has steadily gained in favor since the great war began. It spells comfort, convenience freedom. The stiff bosom is a descendant of the breast plate of feudal times.

It is possible that in the coming years of peace the regime of the stiff bosom and the white waistcoat will be revived, but there is doubt of this. Having tasted freedom, man—British and otherwise—many show a natural hesitancy over resuming the shackles. The new social independence, the leveling of old conditions, will prove a serious stumbling block for those who might seek to bring about resumption of the old order of conventionalities. The soft shirt is doing its bit for world democracy.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

JUST GIRL, AFTER ALL!

She wore khaki pants, flannel shirt and a cap, with a pencil behind her ear; had a business-like looking leather money pouch swung from a strap over her shoulder, and looked like a war-time laundry wagon driver or collector. Yet, in passing a street mirror, she pulled a chamois rag out of her pants pocket, gave her nose a few dabs and straightened her cap. La femme eternelle.—Los Angeles Times.

By HENRY MEADE BLAND.

The ships of battle idly swing
At anchor on the tranquil bay;
The aeroplane sails in a-wing
As 'twere a bird in gentle play;
But where is he who that great day
Sublimely paid the sacrifice
To vanquish those who rob and slay?
He on the field of honor lies!

It is a glorious song we sing
Of war that broke the tyrant's sway;
A wonder-word of joy we bring,
Retold in many a lyric lay
Of manhood ranked in proud array;
But he who joins the great assize,
When we at home could only pray—
He on the field of honor lies!

Our flags triumphant are a-fling
That godly Justice wins her way;
Dear hearts exult, and, maddening,
They dance as flowerets of the brae:
Ah, who shall glory more than they!
Yet he who dared the great emprise
And met great Death without dismay—
He on the field of honor lies!

ENVOY.

Earth has no nobler word to say
Of him who fights for Truth and dies:
This is his shining laurel-spray—
He on the field of honor lies!

GOVERNOR WHITMAN'S FAILURE.

For four years Governor Whitman has devoted his efforts to gaining the Republican nomination for the Presidency in 1920. He has subordinated the business of the state, in its executive branch, to the building up of a political machine for that purpose. Not to any lack of intelligence or energy, but solely to that preoccupation, are his lapses as governer to be attributed. Today he reckons up his reward. Whether he has won or lost at the polls, the carefully reared work of his best years lies in ruins about him. As a candidate for the Presidency he is hopelessly handicapped. That he—that any man—will go further and faster in American politics and in the end stand firmer on his feet by making official duty his first consideration is the most excellent lesson of Governor Whitman's failure.—New York World.

IT'S RESPECTABLE NOW.

Strange, the mutations of terms! Nowadays, days of military ardor, to "carry on" is to conduct oneself in a highly exemplary manner, but who does not remember when "carrying on" was a term of reproach and likely to call forth a rebuke from the pulpit if not a visit from the village constable?—Chicago News.

Mrs. Henry Wetherbee is convalescing from illness at Byron Springs.

OUR JOB AHEAD.

The United States is a favored child of fortune in that we have suffered none of the unspeakable miseries that have befallen our allies. We have sustained little loss, and yet it was our privilege to enter the war at the critical moment and turn the tide of defeat into glorious victory. Perhaps our largest participation will be in the work of restoration. The man power of Great Britain has been seriously impaired, France has lost its women as well as its men, while a part of the land has been smashed into a huge scrap heap. Italy has suffered untold hardships, and words cannot do justice to crucified Belgium. In view of the facts should we not feel that we have helped to extinguish a world conflagration rather than applaud the winning of a game?—Shoe and Leather Reporter.

EXPLODES SUBSTITUTE THEORY

Many curious theories or guesses are advanced in the endeavor to account for the influenza epidemic. One that meets with wide acceptance is that the prevalence of sickness is due to the general use of food substitutes. When someone advanced this theory to the Rev. John Harvey Lee of Germantown, who spent the summer as a Young Men's Christian Association secretary in one of the army camps, he said: "How is it, then, that the disease has been at its worst in the army camps, where virtually no substitutes are used?" The proponent of the theory had to admit that it did not fit the soldiers.—Philadelphia Record.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Why You Ought to Breath Deep Before Entering a Ca

BY DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

Foul air is filled with a breathed-out gas—carbon dioxide—with dust and dirt particles and myriads of germs, both infectious and otherwise. These elements, almost void of any oxygen, form a combination which acts as a poison to the scarlet stream of the human mechanism. It loads the crimson fluid with an abundance of material which it seeks itself to throw off and not only brings no oxygen with it but prevents whatever oxygen may come into the blood stream from being really beneficial on account of the great proportion of evil influences present in these poisons.

At times it is quite necessary to be in a place where quarters are close and the air anything but fresh. In crowded cars, for example, in subways, elevators, buses and other means of conveyance, as well as in halls and theaters, the waste material present in the air almost always exceeds the amount of oxygen present. It is largely due to the condition of the air that ailments are contracted to such a great extent in these places.

Take breaths as deep as you possibly can when you get on a car and when you get off it. In either instance you load your tiny blood tubes and vessels with plenty of oxygen, so that you prepare a way strongly to resist the poisonous influence of the air you must breathe during the next few moments or for the next hour or so.

While you are seated in a crowded car or theater stiffen your muscles every now and then so that the fibres may be made to work and thus produce energy. While in the act of creating energy the muscle fibres drive the circulating fluid rapidly over the mechanism from the heart, through the tubes and vessels, back to the lungs, to receive a new supply of the reserve and incoming oxygen, so that there is little chance for the poisonous gases of the surrounding air to make the scarlet stream in any area of the mechanism suffer stagnation.

Deep breaths and stiffened muscles not only prevent the scarlet fluid from being badly affected by the presence of a great deal of waste material in the air, but because they involve action they force the blood stream into the face and beneath the skin surface, so that your cheeks become flushed and pink.

Two Jews were on a journey on a hot summer day. "Have you anything with you, Matthias?" asked one.

"Yes, a bottle of wine. What have you, Moses?"

"A dry tongue."

"Good! We'll divide our provisions."

Matthias produced his wine and it was divided. Then he asked his fellow-traveler to bring out his provisions.

"I," said Moses.

"Why, yes, the dry tongue you said you had."

"I haven't got one now," was the cool reply.—Boston Transcript.

CALIFORNIA TO YIELD ITS OWN RAW IRON

California will, within the next few years, supply its own industries with raw iron, removing the one serious bar to the development of mechanical industries. California iron ore deposits, heretofore impossible of development because of the great expense of bringing coal here for the purpose, are to be reduced by electricity, gained from hydro-electric power houses at a less cost than bricks can be made for. This is the result of experiments made for the past twenty years by J. V. Chown, Oakland brick manufacturer and chemist, and which have reached a successful state in actual tests on a commercial basis conducted at the Pacific Coast Steel Company's plant across the bay.

Chown owns vast iron ore deposits in the Sierra in proximity to water power. He is meeting today with Eastern and local capitalists in San Francisco to finish negotiations for the start of the new industry.

CAN DEVELOP DEPOSITS.

California's factories and shipyards have always been barred from real competition in the East through the fact that all iron must be shipped into the state. California's iron ore deposits, sufficient to supply the world, could not be used economically because of the expense of transporting coal here.

The new process, which is similar to one used in Sweden, with modifications to make it applicable to local ore, consists of heating the ore with carbon by electricity, thus "deoxidizing" it for making it a metallic "sponge," in which form it can be used in any manner desired. This "sponge" is to be shipped to Oakland, according to Chown's plan, where it will be made into ingots at a trifling expense.

MAKES PERFECT STEEL.

California iron, by tests at the San Francisco plant, is found to make perfect steel.

Alabama heretofore has been able to produce the nation's cheapest iron, iron and coal deposits being together. With California's vast hydro-electric supply as fuel, this cost can be reduced to less than the firing of brick, according to the inventor.

"There is nothing new about the process," he says. "It is the application of the Swedish process."

Chown, who lives at 6451 Hillegass avenue, is a pioneer in the industry, and now is owner of several large fire-brick factories.

The process, he says, will anticipate the plan of Charles M. Schwab for brining Alaska coal here to smelt California iron by ten years and perform the task more cheaply. He already controls the iron deposits of the state, with the exception of some few areas, and has several working furnaces in operation.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of Danderine at any drug store for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

Official Election Count Is Made

No Changes Are Shown in Results

Completion of the official returns of the general election makes no change from mthe results announced by The TRIBUNE bureau the day following the election. There are no majorities low enough to justify a demand for a recount and it is believed that none will be had. The election of Herbert D. Wise as justice of the peace in Brooklyn township one of the disputed results, is confirmed.

County Clerk George E. Gross received the highest vote. The total vote cast was 76,568, exceeding expectations. The complete official count is as follows:

WAR SAVINGS ARDOR ASKED OF OAKLAND

"It isn't a case of 'If you please!' but 'You must!' in the war savings stamp drive."

This is the declaration made today by William Nat Friend, chairman of the four-minute speakers' organization of Alameda county, in an address before members of the Rotary Club at a luncheon in the Hotel Oakland. He asked the cooperation of every member of the club and of every patriotic citizen in the war savings stamp campaign.

"Of the 58 counties in California Alameda county is forty-second on the list in the size of its subscriptions to the war savings stamp fund," said Chairman Friend. "We are $2,000,000 behind in our quota and authorities in Washington already have asked 'Why?' They point out that we have immense shipbuilding and war industries here and demand to know the reason for Alameda county's recalcitrant attitude toward war savings stamps. It is up to both Oakland and Alameda county to get busy and cut down the huge deficit in our subscription."

David E. Perkins, chairman of the Alameda county war savings stamp committee, who also spoke at the luncheon, announced that renewed energies are to be put into the war saving stamp campaign between now and the first of the year and that Thanksgiving day is to be "honor day" in the campaign.

Perkins called on all Oakland business men who had signed pledges to buy $1000 worth of war savings stamps to make good their pledges as soon as possible.

"It is imperative that the whole community join in putting the war savings stamp campaign over the top," he declared. "Only loyal, enthusiastic support from every person in the county can wipe out our deficit in time to give us a clean slate when the new war savings stamp campaign starts on the first of next year."

Tech High School Pupils Raise $3,423.91

Oakland Technical High school exceeded its quota to the United War Work campaign fund, raising a total of $3423.91. Of this sum the boys of the school subscribed $1703.91 and the girls contributed $1720. The campaign at the school was conducted under direction of P. M. Fisher, principal, and F. Ewing, business manager. The boys and girls competed in raising funds. The school being closed during the campaign, the students had to be reached at their homes.

Peace Celebrated by Lion Club Members

A meeting of the Lion's club, the first since the lifting of the influenza epidemic band, was held today aat the Hotel Oakland. The luncheon was in the nature of a thanksgiving celebration for peace and the passing of the epidemic. Addresses were made by officers and members, including reminders of the present War Work Fund drive.

ALAMEDA MAN GROWS WEARY OF DAILY BEATING

Tom Mototo, 4534 Clement avenue, is tired of being "beat up" every morning, and has appealed to the police of Alameda, where the "beating up" takes place with tiresome regularity, to protect him. The story Mototo told the Alameda bluecoats is that each morning when he pedals his bicycle to Willow and Santa Clara avenues on his way to work the same two men step in his pathway, force him to dismount, then beat him and search him. This morning one of the men struck Mototo hard enough to cut his mouth severely and he decided that it was time to declare an end of patience. The Alameda police have promised to meet him at the fateful corner tomorrow morning.

DENY BAY IS HOT BED FOR BOLSHEVISM

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Reports coming from Washington and having official status to the effect that San Francisco is one of two cities in the United States where Bolshevikism has gained a substantial foothold, are unfounded according to Department of Justice officials in this city. The officials acknowledge, however, that all steamships from the Orient are being closely watched for Bolshevik agents who are seeking to start propaganda here.

In this connection it is recalled that several of those who took an important part in the early revolutionary councils in Russia were residents of this city, who went to Russia immediately after the czar was deposed.

According to Washington advices the propaganda has not reached dangerous proportions either in this city or in New York, held the other city where the propaganda is said to have gained a foothold. The advices say that although the agitation is prompted partly by a group of former syndicalists and I. W. W. leaders, investigation shows, say government agents, that it is fostered by a new element of dissatisfied citizens, favoring abolition of private property rights and development of government by soviet committees with communial control of industry and trade.

To some extent this Bolshevik propaganda is said to have been promoted by enemy aliens, and this is one reason for continuation by the Department of Justice of its policy of internments.

FLYERS HALF AND HALF ON GOING HOME

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2011 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, Nov. 21. — As probably the first step toward disbanding the School of Militarty Aeronautics at the University of California, where many of the air heroes of the American army in France were trained, word was received yesterday from Washington, D. C., by Major Charles R. Crane, commandant of the school, instructing him to ascertain how many of the students wished immediate discharge.

As a result of the query the school is evenly divided, about 50 per cent desiring to go on with their training and the remainder seeking return to civilian life.

"We have no further instructions concerning the future of the school excepting the mere query from Washington," said Major Crane today. "Students desirous to complete their training may undoubtedly be given opportunity to do so, but no information has come of future plans."

It is expected, however, that student fliers on the campus desirous of continuing training will complete the ground course in Berkeley and from there will be transferred to flying fields for actual flying work. Fliers thus trained will doubtless become a part of a large flying reserve planned by the government to man the air fleets of the nation in the event of future emergencies.

Applications for release from service have already been made by officers at the aviation school and forwarded to Washington for action. According to unofficial reports current on the campus Mather Field at Sacramento, where Berkeley students have been sent for flying training, will be closed within six weeks at the completion of the work of the students now assigned there.

RED CROSS MEETING.

RICHMOND, Nov. 21. — Election of directors will take place at the annual meeting of the Richmond Red Cross chapter tomorrow night in the Elks' hall. Private T. L. Smith of a Canadian regiment will speak.

Local officials say that the sole evidence of the Bolsheviki attempting to start in San Francisco was disposed of by the intelligence bureau last winter when Attorney W. A. Weatherspoon, his wife Marion, Bluma Valaznick and others were arrested and indicted here.

Professor Ghose sought removal proceedings in New York, carrying the case to the United States Supreme Court; where it is now pending on appeal. The trial of the local defendants has been continued from time to time at the request of Special Assistant Attorney General John W. Preston pending the final decision in the New York appeal. Taraknath Das is now serving a sentence at McNiel Island following his conviction in the Hindu Ghadr revolutionary case.

HERE'S POET WHO TOOTS OWN HORN

Witter Bynner, new prophet of literary endeavor at the University of California, is famous for Culture—spelled with a "C," but he cares not for the other kind, as spelled with a "K."

The distinguished easterner got his first glimpse of San Francisco's Chinatown on the day of the downfall of the "K" sort of Kultur—for the celebration of the armistice took him to the artists' colony on Telegraph Hill.

And—ten minutes later the famous one—in fact, one of the most famous literary lights in America—was leading a procession down Dupont street, tooting on a "China horn."

CHAMBER WILL FILL VACANCIES

Nomination of candidates for the directorate of the Chamber of Commerce, to take the place of seven retiring directors, will be held November 27 at the noonday membership luncheon in the Hotel Oakland. The retiring directors are Arthur Arlett, W. K. Cole, J. L. Howard, F. V. Jones, Frederick Kahn, Joseph R. Knowland and H. K. Jackson.

The nominees to be chosen from the floor at the luncheon meeting will be voted on at a later date by Australian ballot in the chamber offices. Under the by-laws of the chamber retiring directors are not eligible for re-election.

'Rainbow Trail' Feature Offering at American

WILLIAM FARNUM, who is appearing at the American Theater in Zane Grey's thrilling story of the rugged West, "The Rainbow Trail."

Those who waited so long and anxiously for the appearance, in this city, of William Farnum in "The Rainbow Trail," the sequel to Zane Grey's "Riders of the Purple Sage," which was presented at the American theater a few months ago, are this week packing that theater to capacity at every performance to witness the stirring drama of love, hate and passion, and the production is surpassing even their fondest anticipation.

In this William Fox masterpiece William Farnum assumes for the first time in his career a dual role and his work in this exciting drama has been pronounced by many dramatic critics the best he has ever accomplished.

The play abounds in thrilling situations and strong climaxes and holds the spectators spellbound from the time Shefford starts in search of the mysterious valley wherein Lassiter, with the woman he loves, has been entombed for many years, until, after many exciting adventures, the rescue is accomplished. The Saturday performances will conclude the engagement.

An enjoyable feature of the evening performances at the American is the playing of Leon Rosebrook's Symphony Orchestra.

Leon Rosebrook's Symphony Orchestra, this masterful musical organization, under the brilliant leadership of Mr. Rosebrook, is composed of fourteen accomplished soloists who, with Mr. Rosebrook, have been engaged after diligent effort and at great expense by the management of the American to play regularly at the evening performances.

Commencing with the matinee Sunday a double program of unusual excellence will be presented. Tom Mix will be seen in "Fame and Fortune" and Mae Marsh will appear in "Hidden Fires."—Advertisement.

The Navy gets all our floss Mattresses---

Although this firm had specialized on its own floss mattresses for years, we were very glad to be able to help out the Government when two weeks ago we received the following order:

"All kapok (floss) of any grade whatever that the said John Breuner Company had on hand or owned at the time of receipt of the kapok restraining order recently issued by the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department, Washington, D. C., and all kapok of which the said John Breuner Company has since acquired the ownership.

"All the above mentioned kapok shall be considered as delivered to the Navy upon receipt of this order."

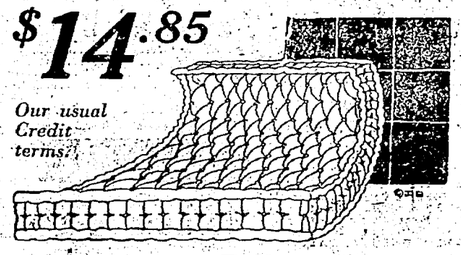

That's why we sell no more floss mattresses.

but here is a big week-end

Sale of Hair Mattresses

at

$14.85

Our usual Credit terms.

And this is the interesting story back of these newcomers.

When we knew we could sell no more floss mattresses for the present, at least, in looking around for something dependable with which to replace them it was discovered that the Cudahy Curled Hair Works of Indiana was about to close out its San Francisco warehouse. By taking the entire lot of hair mattresses in their stock this sale was made possible.

Full size, sanitary mattresses only are in this lot. They weigh forty pounds each, are filled with 50% each of gray hair and palm fibre filling, and are covered with the best quality of ticking. They are guaranteed by the makers to be of entirely new material, clean and thoroughly sterilized.

Consequently they are a remarkable value at this price, but remember that

On Monday the price will be $18.00

This special pricing is good today, Friday and Saturday. They will go into regular stock and be marked at regular prices on Monday. So be early if you need a good mattress. Floss mattresses had gone up to $25 before the Government requisitioned them. See the saving!

EAST BAY SPORTSMEN ARRANGE MANY EVENTS FOR WAR WORK FUND

Boxing, Baseball, Football And Indoor Athletic Carnival Will Help in Raising Funds

Larue Fails to Notify Tommy Simpson That He Will Not Box

ALTHOUGH a little late in getting started, the sporting men of Oakland are working their hardest to see Alameda county go "over the top" in raising the quota for the United War Work Fund. Due to the influenza epidemic, the boys sat back until the time was ripe to draw the patronage of the public, and here are a few of the sporting events carded for the next couple of weeks to raise money for the United War Work Fund.

Saturday night at the Oakland auditorium big boxing show with "Fat" Larue meeting "Knockout" Kruvosky in the main event.

Sunday afternoon at the Oakland Coast League Park, big baseball game, entertainment and field meet between ball players, 2 o'clock.

Sunday afternoon at Fortieth and San Pablo, Moore Shipyard vs. Alameda Bethlehems in soccer game, 2:30 o'clock.

Thursday, California vs. Stanford in big American football game.

Friday evening, December 6, indoor athletic stunts at the Oakland auditorium.

If William "Fat" Larue is not to meet Knockout Kruvosky at the Oakland Auditorium next Saturday night in the big benefit show, he has failed to notify Tommy Simpson, the Emeryville promoter who played a big part in arranging for the benefit show. Larue has written a letter to a San Francisco scribe, stating that no one spoke to him about the match, but Andrew Broom says that he has witnesses to say Larue promised to box next Saturday night. Broom says that when Larue was confronted with the question would he box Kruvosky tomorrow night, he asked that the bout be put off for a few days, preferably to Thanksgiving Day. But that was impossible to be done with the big football game planned between California and Stanford, so Broom says that Larue agreed to box this coming Saturday night with Kruvosky. Now if Larue is not ready to box Saturday night, why don't he tell Tommy Simpson about it? Simpson is going ahead with arrangements for the big show and is expecting to see Fat Larue meet Kruvosky, as long as his big heavyweight has not said anything to him about not appearing.

The bouts next Saturday evening are expected to draw out thousands of fans, as the best card to be arranged in the Eastbay for many years is being offered, whether Fat Larue boxes or not. Nothing has been overlooked to give the boxing public the best show possible, so whether Larue is there or not they will see a good show. All the boys have been evenly matched, and the Dundee-Sierra match alone should be worth the price of admission if it is to be anything compared to their last mill when a draw decision was rendered, although Vierra had a shade. Here is the way the card stacks up for Saturday night at the Auditorium:

William Larue vs. Knockout Kruvosky.

Battling Ortega vs. Jack Robinson.

Jimmy Duffy vs. Johnny Arrousez.

Frankie Farren vs. Jimmy Marshall.

Spider Rocha vs. Heinie Schuman.

Walter McDevitt vs. George Drow.

Frankie Jones vs. Billy Shade.

Jimmy Dundee vs. Battling Vierra.

BASEBALL AND SOCCER GAMES WILL DRAW WELL.

The baseball and soccer games to be played Sunday afternoon for the War Work Fund are expected to draw big attendances, as in both games the best talent for the respective kinds of sports have been picked. The Shipbuilders' All Stars vs. the Pittsburg-Crockett All Stars in baseball will be the biggest baseball event of the season, as stars of the major, coast and other leagues have been picked to make up the two teams. Besides the big ball game at the Oakland Coast league park, there will be singling, racing, long distance throwing, base running and plenty of music by two shipyard bands. Billy Sterling, manager of the Moore Shipyard soccer team which will meet the Alameda Bethlehem All Stars at Fortieth and San Pablo, is predicting a great game for the soccer followers. The Alameda team is a strong one and is already being played a favorite to beat the fast Moore aggregation. Both the baseball and soccer games will start at 2:30 o'clock.

COMMITTEE MEETS TO PLAN FOR BIG INDOOR CARNIVAL.

A big sum of money is expected to be turned over to the United War Work Fund after the holding of the huge indoor athletic carnival at the Oakland auditorium on Friday evening, December 6. Last night the committee met and completed the program of events, and something new in the line of indoor sports will be unloosened before the eyes of the spectators. Platoon representing the Presidio and the Mare Island Marines will meet in a gas mask contest, the affair being suggested by "Bud" Kearns of the Y. M. C. A., and is said will furnish a lot of sport. The platoons will also engage in a grenade throwing match, a drain trench to be erected for the contestants to throw at. An indoor soccer game between the Moore shipyard and the Alameda Bethlehems, tug-of-war between the army and navy units of the University of California, the Moore Shipyard and the police department, and numerous other indoor events have been arranged.

H. Bezdek's Ability Has Been Recognized

Hugo Bezdek, who was manager of the Pirates of Pittsburg the past season, after which he took charge of athletics at Penn State college, where he developed a new system of mass athletics, in which every one of the 1500 students was required to take some part, was so successful in that work that the War Department has called on him to act as a supervisor of similar methods of athletic development for the youngsters of the student army now being trained and educated in 400 colleges throughout the country.

Bezdek was famous as a football coach before he became a baseball team manager, and the government's call to him is a striking testimonial of his success as a handler of men.

Mare Island Sailor Team In Big Demand

Will Play Camp Fremont on Saturday; Game With San Diego Planned.

VALLEJO, Nov. 21. — As stated a few weeks ago the Mare Island training station football eleven is in greater demand in California than ever before and this was demonstrated again yesterday when a letter was received at the navy yard from one of the old Mare Island team stationed at San Diego stating that the sailors at the southern base were anxious to play a game with the local cantonment boys. It was stated today that the challenge would be accepted and the yard team will probably play in the south during the holiday season.

The Mare Island training station football eleven is putting in two hours every day practicing for the big game to be staged at Camp Fremont next Saturday afternoon. The sailors expect to win but do not look for any cinch as they are well aware that the soldier aggregation is composed of a large number of gridiron stars.

Coach Charles Goshen has unearthed some high class talent at the navy yard during the past few days and states that by Saturday several of these athletes will be ready to play against the soldiers and if they come up to expectations his team should make a better showing than was the case last week when they defeated Fort Baker by a score of 20 to 0.

Ed (Pop) Geers Always Was on the Up and Up

Edward F. Geers has just completed nearly half a century in light harness racing. In all that time he never drove a race that he did not try to win. In hundreds of them he finished in the "also ran" group, but it was lack of speed or racing manners that placed him behind the money.

In the early '80s, when Geers' name began to appear in racing summaries, few paid any attention to him until he went to the front with Annie W. and Mattie Hunter and followed their successes with the descendants of Tom Hal when associations began to give large purses for pacing races. With them he also made Tennessee as conspicuous in the light harness racing world as the Bella Meade thoroughbred had made it on the running turf.

From Tennessee Geers passed to Buffalo, where, under the critical eye of Cicero J. Hamlin, he made the name of the Village Farm familiar in racing circles all over the world. It was also while in the employ of the Hamlins that a little incident occurred which gave the public a glimpse of the sterling honesty of the man and at the same time shows why of late years racing associations vie with one another in making his appearance at their meetings conspicuous in order to show the public they appreciate the splendid work he has done for the American trotters and pacers.

One day while a Detroit meeting was in progress, Geers started a Village Farm horse that was known to be fast, but had not shown his true form. There was open betting in Detroit in those days, and as very little was expected from the Village Farm representative, the fields were being picked up by the pikers, who cannot resist the temptation to buy a few cheap tickets in the hope that some day the clouds will open and reveal a second Peter Scott and reward them with a return two or three hundred for one.

Such things have happened, and on this particular day, after the first heat, Geers went to C. J. Hamlin and told him the horse could win. The old gentleman had his doubts, but always with an eye on the main chance, suggested that Geers drive an easy race and they would make a killing at the next town. Without a moment's hesitation Geers replied: "Mr. Hamlin, do not ask me to do that," and he went on and won.

The field players were delighted, just as they were at Columbus last September when June Red flashed out in front so unexpectedly after being defeated by Chilcoot at Readville and Hartford, and by Prince Loree at Syracuse. Like other mortals, Geers makes mistakes in races, but no one has ever seen the cheaters hovering around his stable on race day, in the hope of exchanging a few tickets for a victory. As Leigh Hunt said of Abou Ben Adhem, "May his tribe increase."

Service Athletes Will Clean Out Boxing Game

It is the general belief that boxing will be revived on a large scale after the war. The fact that millions of our soldiers are receiving boxing lessons as part of their physical training and their bayonet work gives rise to this belief.

And there is another great change which undoubtedly will accompany this boom. That is the elimination of the petty grafting, the four flushing, the faking and the presence of undesirable characters from the game.

The outstanding feature of every form of athletics conducted in the service is good sportsmanship. This spirit will prevail after the war when the greater part of the athletes themselves and fandom will consist of ex-service men and other men and women who have aided in the cause.

The public will not tolerate the phony stuff which has been pulled off in the ring game or any other sport in the past.

One of the cheapest features of the boxing sport which will die a natural death is the policy of young boxers of assuming the names of famous boxers or names so similar to those of the big stars that they are given much publicity and support for a time because of the misunderstanding.

A New York fighter got away for a time with the announcement that he was Frankie Callahan of Brooklyn, clever lightweight. Dan McKetrick, manager of the real Frankie, finally stopped the other gent's game.

It's hard to believe that some boxer had the nerve to try to pass himself off as Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight champion, but that was done in England.

While the real Billy Kramer was driving a truck in Milwaukee last summer another boxer was using his name to get bouts out west.

In every case fight fans paid out hard-earned coin to see the fakers, believing the men in the ring were the real stars.

With the spirit which will prevail after the war governing sports in the future these grafters will be run out of the game.

Gregory and Putnam Win Golf Medals

Here is picture of a Foch Victory medal offered by John D. Rockefeller to the winners of tournaments for the benefit of the United War Work Fund.

Cecil Putnam and Warren Gregory will wear the highly prized Foch-Victory medals offered by John D. Rockefeller to the winners of tournaments promoted for the benefit of the United War Work fund. Putnam won the event at the Sequoyah Country club and Gregory was the victor at the Claremont. Gregory turned in a card of 84 at the Claremont and Putnam won the Sequoyah event with 85.

A Letter From Hy Thollander

Charley Thollander, manager of the Fruitvale team, has received a letter from his son, Harry, who is Somewhere in France. Harry is one of three Thollander boys now in the service. Ernie is with the marines at Honolulu, while Gussie is with the navy at San Diego. The father received a letter from each of the three boys yesterday. All are well known in baseball circles. Here is Harry's letter:

Dear Daddy and Ma—About you not receiving letters from me. I have answered every letter that you wrote. Maybe the subs have sunk them, but I hope you receive this one. I am writing as often as I can, this being the first chance in the last two weeks. I have spent that time on the battlefield fighting. It sure was a tough session that we had, the nights being cold and rainy and having to put up an uphill battle, but that didn't stop us and we went right through fighting machine guns in the day while at night snipers would shoot at us.

We caught two Germans with American uniforms on. They were spies signaling to German airplanes our positions. We have been advancing so fast, that some of the boys lag behind. I have never been in Montana to see what prairie dogs do, but I have sure done my share digging. Myself and the other boys of the company have had more shells shot at us than it would be possible to count on an adding machine.

I thought several times that my name was ticketed on some of them. We were on the firing line a little over a week. I laid in one shell hole twelve hours, while the shells were dropping all around me. Most of the shots were shrapnel, and a bunch of the boys got hit. Our division didn't suffer much loss, but those days I spent on the firing line gave me my greatest experience of real warfare.

The Germans can never stop us now. It was supposed to be the hardest front to advance on all lines, but the California boys were there with the nerve. There were some terrible sights, and if you know what real war is, it is nothing to see men with their heads, legs and arms blown off. (Censored) of Oakland, whom you ought to know, was hit in the temple with a piece of shrapnel and killed. He was killed not very far from where I was lying in a shell hole.

Sometimes when I was in the hole the machine guns would cut the grass on top of the hole and then the airplanes would cut loose with their machine guns. I sure have seen some airplane fights. A week ago we were relieved from the lines and are now resting after a hike of three days. My feet are pretty sore. By the paper I am reading tonight, it seems like the war will soon be over.

I read in The TRIBUNE where Ernie pitched a dandy game against Alameda. He sure must be some pitcher now.

Well, Pa, I hope we will all be home with you and Ma very soon. I just received another letter from you, and I read about your concrete ship. I wish you would invent a concrete dugout for me. The shells fall here almost as thick as rain drops. Shells have been landing within 50 feet of me, and I consider myself very lucky.

Dear Pa, I want you to do me a favor by going to Mayor Davie and have him pass a law to have all soda fountains removed or put a muffler on them when I get back. If one should go off, I might take it for a shrapnel and fall into somebody's basement. Best regards to all the folks. Your son,

HARRY THOLLANDER.

$15,000 Pitcher Is Good Aviator

Marvin Goodwin, former $15,000 pitching beauty of the St. Louis Cardinals, returned to the scene of his former triumphs recently, but not to assert new claims as a diamond star. He's now Lieutenant Goodwin of the army aviation corps, having just received his commission after taking the flying course at a Texas camp, and he stopped over in St. Louis on his way east.

Goodwin, secured by the Cardinals from Milwaukee near the end of the 1917 season, was a sensation to the close of the campaign, but he saw his duty and "done" it, enlisting as an aviator before the 1918 season opened. While in Texas he pitched several ball games and showed wonderful form. He hopes to return to the diamond when Uncle Sam gives him a release after the war.

TWO ATHLETES DIE.

Death has taken several noted athletes recently outside of those engaged in the war. Gayle A. Dull, long distance runner who ran in the Olympic games in 1908, died recently at his home in Franklin, Pa., of appendicitis. John Aitken, well known auto racer, died a few days ago of pneumonia.

Jack Curley writes us a letter insinuating that some managers of wrestlers have longer records than their meal tickets and some of them are not nearly so savory.

Just because a rival manager got to picking on Curley and his wrestlers, Jack sent out the glad tidings that the gentleman in question had spent a year in the penitentiary. This wrestling is a great game if you don't weaken.

Pretty soon the Hohenzollern guy will receive a curt order from the Dutch government advising him to depart in peace or depart in pieces.

Willie Meehan is practicing juggling a tea cup on his lap and thinks he will soon acquire an unspillable grip.

Willie, you know, is en route to London to box before the king and members of the royal family and he expects an invitation to take tea with George and his folks.

THE FELLOW WHO KISSED WIFIE FROM BEHIND THE MASK HAS GOT TO EAT CLOVES AGAIN.

Yep, these masks had their faults, but they also had their virtues.

We're in favor of the "rasslers" wearing 'em all the time just to make 'em look natural. The gauze wouldn't care.

Announcement is made that the "Brokers" will play the custom house team next Sunday, but the first mentioned nine is not composed of the lads who bet on Willie Meehan to whip Fulton.

Jim Jeffries had something slipped in his tea cup at Reno and somebody gave Willie Meehan a Ninette Rintintin. Personally, we would rather have what Jeffries received; it listens less harmful.

What a chance the ball players and box fighters have of getting even a tiny flicker of the spotlight when the Yanks come maching home!

Jake Daubert Sues Brooklyn Dodgers

NEW YORK, Nov. 20. — Suit to collect $2150, alleged to be due Jake Daubert, captain and first baseman of the Brooklyn National league baseball club, as salary for the five weeks cut from the league's 1918 schedule as a result of the work or fight order, was begun here today by Albert Kloz, to whom Daubert assigned his claim.

The petition alleges that Daubert was the holder of a five year contract expiring at the end of the 1918 season and calling for a salary of $9000 a year. Daubert says he was paid only $6850. Daubert's claim recently was thrown out by the National Commission.

Kieckhefer's high run was seven and Cannefax's four.

Chinese Star May Play For U.C. Saturday

California Is Prepared to Play Oregon Aggies to a Standstill.

Oregon is menaced by the yellow peril.

Samuel Kikee, 125 pound Chinese, will most likely be inserted in the California lineup for the Oregon game to be played at the Berkeley oval next Saturday, owing to the recent damaging of Watson, regular Bear halfback, and his substitute, Eells. Samuel is the best Chinese halfback on the coast and a deadly tackler, landing low and hard.

Although Watson and Eells are on the hospital list, California should give Oregon a man-sized tussle for any points they ring up. California has been forced to use a lot of freshmen, who incidentally happen to have high school gridiron records.

Oregon has also been forced to use green material this year, due to the absence of many of their athletes.

The game with the Oregon Aggies for Saturday and the big one with Stanford for Thanksgiving day, have set the football craze at fever heat, and all the talk around the campus these days seems to dwell on football. Couch Andy Smith of the University of California team has high hopes of his boys wading through the defenses of the Oregon team on Saturday, and then he looks for the grand big time Thanksgiving day.

Preparations for the big Thanksgiving game are being carried out with much headway, and it is expected to be the biggest day on the California field since the last clash between the Cardinal and Blue and Gold teams.

AGGIES ON WAY HERE.

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 21. — The University of Oregon football team left Eugene at night for Berkeley, Cal., to play the University of California team there Saturday afternoon. The team was accompanied by Coach "Shy" Huntington, Trainer Bill Hayward and a few rooters. Seventeen players were taken. Oregon defeated California here last year by the score of 20 to 0.

WITH THE NIMROODS

Never before has the quail season opened up so auspiciously as this year. More limits were killed than in any former year, particularly in the sections around Moraga and Mt. Diablo.

Bob Castro had the limit and was back in Oakland before 11 a. m. He shot in the hills around Moraga.

Ed Hulse and H. A. Edwards shot back of Diablo and each bagged the limit of quail as well as six rabbits and two coyotes.

Ed Hulse reported that he saw at least eight coyotes in his morning ramble after quail.

Dr. Barber, Jack Woolley, Art Steiner and Al Holley went to Merced Tuesday and all brought back the limit of blue bills and sprig.

Tuesday when the rain was pouring torrents J. Van Eaton and Walt Meauser killed the limit of sprig, each, in one hour at Newark.

There were several parties at Newark during the storm and they all got limits in a short time and report that the ducks came in by the thousands.

The shooting in the rice fields picked up this week and many limits were shot at Maxwells.

Those shooting from bay blinds around San Pablo, Tuesday, had the shoot of their lives. Canvasback ducks were flying in countless numbers and poor, indeed, was the shooter that did not get the limit of these toothsome birds.

Billy Dailey, who owns a place on the Hayward boulevard, informs us that he killed the limit of quail on his place.

Mr. and Mrs. Nordquist went to the Wilson ranch in Yolo for the opening day for quail. Guess they were thick at this place when Gus killed nine with one barrel. Getting the limit was so easy that they stayed over for another shoot.

Shooting at Los Banos is good now and few hunters come away without the limit.

Phil Bekeart entertained three friends at his shooting lodge near Newark, Wednesday, and four limits of teal and sprig were the net result.

From Willows and Gridley comes tales of great flights of mallards and the score of shooters at these places usually bring home all the law allows.

Shooting at Cordelia this week has improved and the average bag of birds is now nearer the limit than formerly.

Charles Mayfield of Suisun writes that the season is now on and that the marshes are full of nice, fat birds.

Speaking of fat birds, it is a noticeable fact that the ducks killed around the bay are much fatter and in primer condition than those killed in the rice fields. Why?

"Young Turner" at Last Admits He Is 45 Years of Age

Old man Turner, better known in boxing circles as Young Turner, the West Oakland bone crusher, is bemoaning the fact that no one is willing to be swatted with his right mitt. Turner recently knocked out Billy Shade in a round and Shade in turn defeated Frankie Jones and Walter McDevitt, which shows that the old man is still there. For the first time, Turner has been willing to admit his right age. He was born in Denver, Colorado, December 28, 1873, and three days after the coming Christmas he hopes to be able to celebrate his 45th birthday.

Turner says that he feels so tough in his old age, that even Kid Flu tried his best to count him out and failed. Some local four rounders, when asked to box Turner, have asked "Why don't the old man die and give the young fellows a chance?" and similar remarks. Turner says that it is not his age that boxers respect, but his big punch, which is liable to put them in total eclipse.

Wild Willie Webb Offers His Services

Wild Willie Webb is nothing if not patriotic. Willie spent two hits with the telephone company this morning to notify Promoter Tommy Simpson that he wanted to tender his services at the big benefit show at the Auditorium, Saturday night. The card has been made up but Willie will be on hand in case a substitute should be needed.

CEDAR RAPIDS WINS.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Nov. 21. — Tipton high, outweighed and outclassed by a large percentage, lost a one-sided football game to the local high school team here yesterday by a score of 47 to 0. The ball was in possession of Cedar Rapids almost all of the time. Tipton made first down only twice during the entire game.

Timekeepers Enter County League; Games to Be Played At Fruitvale Recreation Park

Oakland Commission Merchants Withdraw Protest On San Leandro Game

By Eddie Murphy

THE big breaker which was expected to appear at the meeting of the Alameda County Midwinter League last night and cause that league to go on the rocks, failed to appear, and once again everything is in shape for the holding of the regular league games next Sunday afternoon. The Timekeepers of the San Francisco plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation is the new team to be taken into the league to replace the United States Shipping Board club. At last night's meeting there was no sign of a breaker, and everything ran along smoothly, the protest of the Oakland Commission Merchants of their game with the C. L. Best Tractors being forgotten by the Commission Merchants' manager.

The taking of the Timekeepers into the league and the announcing that the Midwinter league would begin staging games at Fruitvale Recreation park next Sunday were the features of the meeting. The games for next Sunday will be as follows:

Oakland Commission Merchants vs. Vitt Grays, at Fruitvale Recreation park, 2:30. Umpire, Nissen.

Crystal Laundry vs. C. L. Best Tractors at San Leandro, 2:30. Umpire, Larue.

Timekeepers vs. Halton-Didiers, at Lincoln park, Alameda, 2:30. Umpire, Jake Croter.

The Timekeepers entered the league with the understanding that it must start off with the standing of the United States Shipping Board team, which is two defeats and no wins. The Timekeepers' club is managed by Lee Weimeyer and Lee promises to have his boys up in the running within a few weeks. The Timekeepers are looked to as the best team in San Francisco, outside of the San Francisco Bethlehems, and fans will have a chance once in a while to see Babe Hollis and Roy Bliss, too old semi-pro. rivals in a pitching duel. Bliss is pitching for the Timekeepers and has been winning many a game.

With the league securing the lease of Fruitvale Recreation park to play their games in, the league heads look toward a big success for their organization. The games already played at San Leandro and Alameda have paid well, but at the Grove street park, a loss has been suffered at each game, and the managers are thankful to be able to get away from that place. Fruitvale Recreation park has always been known to be an attraction to the baseball fan in the winter time, and with the proper kind of baseball served the boys should play before some big crowds.

Whenever a financial loss is suffered by any manager in the league that loss will be made up by all managers by taking a certain percentage out of the game of the Sunday following. It was decided that the league start a sinking fund and at the end of the season, whatever be in the pot be turned over to the winning team. Last night's meeting was the largest to be held for a baseball purpose than has been any for the past season. Close to 60 players, managers and fans packed Spalding's fan room and made it look like old times.

President Krumb was in charge with Maury Pessano as secretary. Jerry Lawlor was an attendant and split out some good advice to the boys in the way of hoping to see the league to success.

Gene Caldera, the youthful southpaw has been signed up by the C. L. Best Tractors to pitch the entire season of the Midwinter league. His delivery last Sunday against the hard hitting Oakland Commission Merchants was one of the features of the game.

Andy Vargas will be on the receiving end of the battery for the Tractors next Sunday. This will be his first game in many weeks after a severe attack of the flu.

The fans of San Leandro are looking for a great pitcher's battle next Sunday in the game between the C. L. Best Tractors and the Crystal Laundry when Caldera and Babe Hollis will oppose one another in the box.

Hendricks Would Bar All Slackers From Baseball

"When the war is over and baseball again takes its place as our leading sport, the 'slackers' who deserted the game and also failed to do their bit for the country by entering military service or war relief work, or at least some essential industry, will get a mighty chilly reception if they dare appear on the diamond again," said Jack Hendricks, the noted big league player and manager, who was accepted as a Knights of Columbus overseas secretary. "If I had my way," he continued "they would be barred from the game entirely. Their actions brought shame not only on themselves but on the profession. The sporting public will never forgive them, and they will realize their shame and mistake when they apply for work."

Jack is a native of Chicago. In the west he is as popular as John McGraw is in New York. He was a crackerjack outfielder himself in major league clubs several years ago, and has the reputation for being able to impart to his players the knowledge he gained by long experience. He has the knack of getting his men to extend themselves, without appearing to drive them. This is the mark of a natural leader.

Hendricks has a son now in one of the government's officers' training camps, and he leaves behind him a wife and very young son.

"Already a post-war policy of barring all slackers from baseball is being advocated," he said, "and I am thoroughly in accord with this policy. I wish I was young enough to be accepted in active service, but I know my boy will give a good account of himself.

"But they should keep every body who would not do his duty by his country out of baseball. Too bad we haven't had more Eddie Grants and Hank Gowdys over there. Those are the kind of fellows that should be the future magnates of the sport.

"If it weren't for the patriots who have gone across and risked their lives for their country there would be no baseball to look forward to.

"Captain Huston of the Yankees is a man I greatly admire. He is a man who logged too fat to be fit for service, yet he volunteered as soon as war was declared, trained down till he reached fighting trim. There is no telling the great value he has been in his capacity of engineer. I am strongly in favor of placing Cap. Huston at the head of the National Commission. He will know the kind of players and magnates that ought to be tolerated after the war.

"I am like a thoroughbred at the post, ready for the barrier to be sprung, or sailing for the boat to sail for France. I realize what great good can be done for our army by promoting future magnates of the sport.

BOWLING

Commencing Thursday, November 28, and running until Sunday, December 1, the Maryland bowling alleys will stage an inter-city tournament which will be composed of three events, five men doubles and singles. The cream of the bowlers of the bay cities will be seen in action in this tournament along with the stars from Sacramento, Stockton, Fresno and the famous San Jose duo. This tournament will, without doubt, draw the largest entry of any tournament held in recent years with the exception of the P. C. B. A. tourneys. San Francisco has six teams as follows: Ed Capitaine, city champions of San Francisco; the crack Academys, Crabs, Chevrolet Grands, Camouflages and Olympic club. This, with the Eastbay entry of eight teams, along with six out of town entries, will make a total of 20 five-man teams, which should bring in a record entry in the doubles and singles. The tournament will be held under ideal conditions, the alleys just having been cross planned, and new select pins will be used which will give every one entered an equal chance.

All who witnessed last night's two-men match between Ham and Parker vs. De Long and Qualey at the Maryland alleys received a treat, both teams rolling bang up ten pins from the opening frame until the last frame of the fifth game, which showed De Long and Qualey winners by the narrow margin of 27 pins, the winners averaging over 200 and the losers 198. Parker and Qualey tied for high five game honors with 1032 each. Qualey had his partner one pin for the high single game with 234. Parker scored 48 strikes and spares out of 50 frames. The same teams will shoot a return match on the Maryland alleys Sunday night at 8 p. m. The scores:

	1st	2d	3d	4th	5th	Total
Hamm	213	184	167	208	178	948
Parker	209	188	195	215	227	1032
Total	422	370	362	421	405	1980
De Long	253	188	165	196	168	975
Qualey	284	221	158	205	214	1032
Total	467	409	323	401	407	2007

New Records Made by Kieckhefer in in 3-Cushion Game

Two records for world's three cushion championship matches went into the discard recently when Champion Augie Kieckhefer retained his title, defeating Charles McCourt of Cleveland, 150 to 83, at Chicago.

The scrappy little Cleveland southpaw completed his string in 132 innings, cutting the record of 145 innings, held by Alfredo de Oro, for a world title match. He also broke the best existing record—134 innings, made by Cannefax in an exhibition game against Otto Reisel.

The other world's mark was the defeat of McCourt, 150 to 83, this being the heaviest upset incurred by any player since the championship was inaugurated in 1907.

Kieckhefer took the final block, 50 to 40, in 40 innings, McCourt making a far better showing than in the previous blocks, but being unable to hold the fast flying champion.

ATHLETICS AT FRONT.

The Philadelphia Athletics have 20 men in the service. If they can't win the pennant they helped to win the war.

Plenty of Fruit and Vegetables Arriving

Garden cucumbers have disappeared from the local wholesale market, the only receipts of that product coming from the hothouses. As a result, prices are ruling high.
One of the large local wholesale commission firms expects a mixed carload of lettuce and tomatoes from Los Angeles tomorrow. The car will contain 800 crates of lettuce and 100 boxes of tomatoes. The lettuce crop in this vicinity is practically all harvested.
Christmas, or Lady apples, are being received in the market. This fruit is small, but of fine quality, according to dealers, and in addition to being a good eating apple, is also used extensively for decorating Christmas trees.
Citrus fruit receipts continue heavy. Bananas from Central America are also arriving in large quantities and are selling for eight cents a pound.

WATERSPOUT SEEN OFF POINT SUR.
Captain Soust, master of the steamer City of Topeka, which arrived at Santa Barbara yesterday, reports sighting a waterspout about 150 feet wide when he was off Point Sur, on Monday. The waterspout was kicking up a foamy sheet of water several feet high.
A wireless received today from Captain Charles McCarthy of the Alaska freighter Latouche, stated that the fourth officer, Luther E. Harris, had mysteriously disappeared from the deck of the vessel while crossing Queen Charlotte sound on her northward trip.

EGG PRICES TO BE FIXED FOR ONE WEEK

Beginning next Monday and until the new rule is revoked, the price of eggs on the Dairy Exchange will be made but once a week, as is now done with butter. Trading will be done just the same, but the market quotation will be fixed from week to week. This action was taken by the exchange yesterday as a result of complaints of retailers that they were suffering injuries through the large fluctuations in the market.

Oakland's bank clearings for today are $1,463,509.41.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—The bank clearings for today are $20,707,494.18.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Bearish constructions placed on reports of a big drop in grain prices at Paris more than wiped out advances today in the corn market here. The inference was drawn that France now had a relative abundance of supplies, and that predictions of immense enlargement of reports from the United States were overdrawn. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's figures to ½c higher, with December $1.29⅝ to $1.30 and January $1.31⅝ to $1.31¾, were followed by moderate further gains and then a setback to well below yesterday's finish.
Renewed strength developed later, owing more or less to advices that five large Dutch steamships had left American ports with cargoes of flour to relieve food shortage in The Netherlands. The close was firm, ⅛@1c net higher, with December $1.29¾@1.29⅞ and January $1.32¼@1.32¾.
After opening unchanged to ¼c lower, with December 73⅛c, oats scored a little gain, but again underwent a sag.
Provisions lacked aggressive support. Prices had a downward slant.
The close:
Corn—Dec., $1.29⅞; Jan., $1.32⅛.
Oats—Dec., 74⅝c; Jan., 74⅞c.
Pork—Nov., $42.00; Jan., $46.05.

NEW PLAN AT MILLS HONORS EDITH CAVELL

The establishment of a school of social science at Mills College as a living memorial to Edith Cavell, the English nurse who died a martyr to German injustice early in the war, was announced by President Reinhardt of Mills College at memorial exercises held on the campus yesterday in honor of Edith Cavell. Both France and England have erected monuments to this English woman, said the speaker, but the kind of monument which Miss would erect is a living one from which women graduating would be trained for social service work which Edith Cavell typified; preventive work, that such an epidemic as the influenza might never again become possible.

"The world demonstrated in the recent epidemic," said President Reinhardt, "wonderful fellowship and ability to cope with the situation, but the world needs to work that it may never again come to pass. It is easy to think of monuments of stone, but think of a monument of living, working girls. Such a foundation would be everlasting and eternal, touching the love and loyalty which Americans feel."

OTHER MEMORIALS.

The president described the French and English memorials. France asked all artists to present models and that chosen represents a prostrate figure and above symbolic figures of Hope, Justice and Victory. A German helmet lies at the feet of the prostrate figure. The English memorial, erected through the efforts of the London Daily Times, is a cross with the figure prostrate at the foot and Humanity, Fortitude, Devotion and Sacrifice symbolized on the four sides of the cross.

The speaker reviewed the events preceding the accusation and secret trial of Edith Cavell by the Germans, the scattering of the English troops after the battle of Mons, the help given to English, French and Belgium soldiers by Edith Cavell and others, the secret trial in which Edith Cavell did not know of what crime she was accused nor understand a word of the language in which she was being tried.

IN FRENCH REVOLUTION.

"There is only one other period in history where the same environment can be found," said the speaker, "as surrounded the trial of Edith Cavell and that is in certain phases of the French revolution. The ugliest part is that the American and other neutral representatives were lied to and did not even know of the death sentence until it was too late to do anything.

"It is a comforting thought that Christianity and democracy have so worked themselves out that a woman sentenced in secret trial, without understanding a word of the trial, meets her sentence of death with perfect calm, trusting in the goodness of God and the justice of her cause. Edith Cavell is an exemplar of the qualities made possible in the average working woman of the twentieth century because of the doctrines of Christianity and the individuality of women who know the meaning of loyalty and justice and who do their duty."

The Edith Cavell memorial fund was started at Mills College through the anonymous gift of a $100 bond to be devoted to such a fund. It is the purpose of the college to increase the fund through gifts of bonds and war saving stamps. Mrs. W. H. Byington gave a $50 bond, Edith Cavell stamps were presented by Mrs. May Benton McLafferty to be exchanged for thrift stamps, College Hall on the campus gave five war saving certificates and Mrs. E. A. Newland two certificates.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and luster, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and luster and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

Plucky Woman Captures Burglar; Flees From Men

MRS. MILTON R. JOHNSON

Mrs. Milton R. Johnson of Berkeley Takes Bold Marauder.

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2041 SHATTUCK AVE.

BERKELEY, Nov. 21. — The same fighting stuff displayed by her slain brother on the battlefields in Europe was shown last night by Mrs. Milton R. Johnson, well known young society matron of Berkeley, who single-handed caught a burglar in the home of her mother, Mrs. William Stanton Perry, 1434 Hawthorne Terrace.

But Mrs. Johnson's pluck was to no avail. She turned the culprit over to two husky male neighbors while she went to get the key to her automobile to take him to the police station.

When she returned she saw her captive running gally down the street with the two neighbors bad seconds in the race.

Mrs. Johnson discovered the burglar last evening when she left her home to go next door to that of her mother, which is vacant during a temporary absence of the family. Seeing the woman, the burglar took flight, but was followed by Mrs. Johnson, who, knowing the district, overtook him two blocks away by taking a short cut across lots.

"You come with me," demanded the woman. The burglar went. Reaching her home, Mrs. Johnson turned the culprit over to William Nicholls, 1430 Hawthorne Terrace, and C. E. Du Bois, 1414 Hawthorne Terrace, while she went indoors to get the ignition key to her automobile.

As the last act of her exciting event, Mrs. Johnson viewed her burglar gleefully making his get-away, waving a taunting hand as he turned a corner and disappeared from view.

The burglar overhauled last night is one whom the police have almost captured a half dozen times within the last two weeks, but who has slipped from their fingers on each occasion through some new trick of his profession. A search for him was made on the University of California campus yesterday after he had attempted to steal a typewriter from a Shattuck avenue business house and had fled minus a coat and hat. Despite a thorough search of the university grounds no clew was found to his whereabouts until he made his reappearance last night at the Perry home.

Mrs. Johnson, the heroine of last night's near capture, is the sister of Corporal William Stanton Perry, who was killed last month in battle in France.

NEW ARRESTS LOOM IN VICE GRAFT CASES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—Several new arrests will be made tonight, according to detectives, in the vice graft cases unearthed in San Francisco, in which women are declared to have paid government physicians for reports tending to release them from federal custody. The latest developments follow the arrest of Mitchell Korich, a Watsonville farmer, and Edith Jackson, the charge being that Korich paid $300 for the release from custody of the Jackson girl. The arrests expected today will be mostly of women, who will be mainly held as witnesses in the case.

Deputy United States Marshal Lester Ball, who arrested Newburgh, believes that he has made the lawyer's connection with the case certain by having obtained a check drawn for $300 on the Bank of Watsonville, and made out in the handwriting of Newburgh, according to handwriting experts. The check was signed by Korich and was endorsed by Newburgh and cashed through a bank in this city.

It is charged that Korich gave Attorney A. S. Newburgh a check for $300, which was divided between himself and Dr. C. E. Schwartz, for an examination report favoring the freeing of the woman. Newburgh and Schwartz are under arrest.

Two new cases of similar charges have also been lodged against the doctor and attorney.

Dr. George F. Brackett, government physician who it is said, pretended to be in on the plot, and turned his share of graft in marked money over to the detectives, will be a prominent witness in the cases. Dictaphone records and other evidence will also be introduced.

Attorney Newburgh attained considerable notoriety in the spring of 1908 and fall of 1909 in connection with the Abe Ruef trial when he was indicted with Attorney Frank Murphy on a charge of approaching and attempting to bribe E. A. S. Blake, a real estate dealer in the Pacific building.

After Blake's arrest he made a statement involving Newburgh and Murphy, in which he said they had employed him to bribe John Martin Kelly, a prospective juror, who was drawn on the Ruef venire and who created a sensation in the jury box by asking Judge Leonard to excuse him and later gave evidence to Burns, Heney and Langdon which resulted in the indictment of Newburgh, Murphy and Blake. Murphy and Newburgh were acquitted, but Blake served a portion of a term at San Quentin penitentiary and was later pardoned. He is now superintendent of the Rialto building, New Montgomery and Mission streets.

SAUSALITO, Nov. 21.—The Sausalito town trustees have adopted a resolution suspending the enforcement of the mask ordinance, to go into effect immediately. The influenza epidemic was handled here so efficiently there were only two deaths.

OAKLAND IS OVER TOP IN WAR WORK

BULLETIN.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The United War Work fund campaign has been extended again. John D. Rockefeller Jr., chairman, announced this afternoon that the drive now will continue until next Monday in order to raise the amount—$250,000,000.

Oakland is believed to have "gone over the top" in the United War Work campaign which ended last night in which its quota was $228,484, but the executive committee in charge of the nine-day drive refuses to make an official statement to this effect until returns from all of the 258 precincts in the city have been checked up.

Definite knowledge regarding the amount which Oakland subscribed to the war work fund will not be known for several days.

All other cities in the county went over the top without any doubt being attached to their performances. In fact, most of them oversubscribed their quotas by liberal margins.

Oakland started in yesterday morning with a deficit of $78,000. There were a large number of liberal eleventh-hour contributions during the day and late last night hastily compiled figures indicated that the big shortage had been overcome.

According to A. W. Smith, campaign manager, and Judge William H. Waste, chairman of the county executive committee, a rechecking of all precincts, both in Oakland and throughout the county, will be necessary before a statement can be issued. While this checking is in progress War Work campaign headquarters will be maintained in the city hall and additional subscriptions will be received there.

"From figures now available, and eliminating Oakland and the quota given her in the war work drive, the rest of the county went over the top by a big margin," says Judge Waste. "Oakland, however, has been lethargic and we have had serious difficulties in getting the public interested. We will not know definitely whether we have or have not subscribed our quota until we recanvass all returns. Meanwhile the available figures indicate that Oakland raised her quota.

Victory Boys, Girls 166 Per Cent Over Top

Oakland Victory boys and girls are 166 per cent "over the top." Although the schools have not been in session and the students have been widely scattered, they have exceeded their quota by a full 66 per cent. Oakland's portion was 2284 pledges. There have been received up to date 3462 pledges to the United War Work campaign. At the Technical high school 1103 pledges have been made.

MOOSE TO AID IN MONUMENT TO WAR HEROES

Secretary W. J. Hamilton of the Oakland Lodge of Moose today announced that the order will co-operate with the city in planning a memorial to the Oakland boys who gave their lives in the great war.

The first meeting of Oakland lodge of Moose since the ban was placed on all public meetings as a result of the flu epidemic will be held in the clubrooms tomorrow night. The most important feature of the meeting will be the report of the monument committee of the lodge upon the building of the memorial for the Oakland boys.

RETURNED HEROES GO TO HOSPITAL

Bringing back thrilling tales of heroism on the battle front, thirty-four wounded and shell-shocked soldiers, who passed through Oakland last night after being sent across the country by train, are now at the Letterman army hospital, Presidio, convalescing, before their return to their homes. All are Californians and were sent west to be returned to their homes as soon as recovered. The party was met in Oakland by the Red Cross and escorted across the bay.

One of the striking stories brought back by the soldiers is that of George W. Brutz, recommended for the Croix de Guerre, who held a machine gun after his companions had been killed for five hours in Argonne forest. Private Harry Thompson of Gridley, whose specialty was picking off camouflaged German snipers, was wounded when a high explosive shell went off near him. Private Okie Murphy of Los Angeles, Private John Rippe of San Francisco and several other men told of thrilling fighting.

"We wouldn't have missed the experience for a thousand dollars," is their unanimous verdict.

ECONOMY IN USE OF WHEAT STILL URGED

Necessity of continued economy in the use of wheat flour in the home and public eating places was today pointed out by the California food administration on advice from Washington. Elimination of the substitute regulations has been misinterpreted, the food administration says, as meaning that further conservation of wheat products had become unnecessary.

It is explained that the 80-20 rule was abandoned primarily to relieve a universal shortage in coarse grain feeds for domestic animals. As most of wheat substitutes were made from these grains consequently a scarcity of stock feeding has developed.

In order that America may fulfil her pledge to export approximately 20,000,000 tons of food prior to June 30 next, to prevent millions of liberated people from starving, this nation must continue its restriction of its wheat consumption as rigidly as prevailed under the war program of food conservation.

The restaurant regulations known as general orders 2 and 3, prohibiting service of bread or toast as a garniture or under meat, and prohibiting service of bread until after the first course has been served, will also be strictly enforced. Inspectors are now working throughout the state on this detail and infractions reported will be followed by imposition of the prescribed penalties.

Are You Wearing Your Future For a Bustle?

I know just how some of you feel when you read my dental advertisements. You may not know me personally, and my enemies have succeeded in keeping you in the dark for so long that you have to admit that you don't know very much about quality dentistry.

You don't hesitate to take advantage of an old established store's advertisement when it offers a well-known brand of shoes at reduced prices, because you have acquired the habit of going to this store, and you know something about quality shoes. You may not have gotten into the habit of calling at one of my offices for your dental work, so you may be one who hesitates to call on me in spite of the fact that you have read my advertisements for the past twenty-three years. But now that it is no longer unethical to advertise, you may feel more at liberty to act on what I advertise to you.

During all these years I have been keeping up a constant bombardment of advertisements telling you about the high quality of Anderson dentistry, which is conceded by all impartial judges to be the very best that money can buy. My guarantee has more behind it than any other dental guarantee given in the State of California, and I can, in a very short time, prove to you that my prices are the lowest at which Class-A quality dentistry can be obtained.

You are acknowledging as facts today certain things which a year ago you declared to be impossible. You owe it to yourself and to your pocketbook to investigate Anderson dependable dentistry and allow yourself to be convinced that there is no better dentistry than that to be obtained in an Anderson dependable dental office. I use only S. S. White dental materials—the kind upon which the U. S. dental censor has put his O. K.

For years I have used Procaine, the anaesthetic recommended by the U. S. for alleviating pain in dental operations. My associates are all skilled, efficient and human dentists. To eliminate all guess work I have installed a modern X-Ray machine in my office. An experienced radiographer is in charge.

My easy payment plan—pay a little at a time—as your work progresses.
